DICTAGRAPH RECORDS CROOKED, SAYS GENTRY

MINE STRIKE WAR IN WEST VIRGINIA GOES UNDER PROBE

Conditions Which Have Kept the State in Civil Strife for Year Investigated by Senate Committee.

MILITARY COMMISSION'S TRIALS ARE DESCRIBED

One Miner Was Sentenced to Seven Years in Penitentiary for Swearing at an Officer, Declares Witness.

Charleston, W. Va., June 10.—The power and authority of the government of the United States came to West Virginia today to determine who is responsible for the conditions which have kept the state in virtual civil war for more than a year. Opening the investigation of the coal mine strike which has dealt death and destruction in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mining sections, the senate mine strike investigating committee tonight called upon the military authorities for the records of the proceedings prior to and under the declaration of martial law in the strike territory.

Judge Advocate General George S. Wallace, Adjutant General Charles D. Elliott, Major James I. Pratt, Captain Charles Morgan and Captain Samuel L. Walker were summoned before the committee this evening to produce the state records regarding the declaration of martial law and the proceedings of the military committee which was placed in authority in the strike district. Senator Borah, of Idaho, desired their testimony and their records as the basis for the branch of the inquiry which he is conducting as to the charge that citizens have been "arrested, tried and convicted in violation of the constitution and the law of the United States."

First Witness Called.

J. Bruce Reid, a Charleston newspaper man, the first witness, said he was sent to the Paint Creek mine section last June after two shootings had occurred.

He said he was shown at Mucklow bullet holes in houses, where mine guards told him striking miners had attacked the boarding house of mine guards.

Two weeks later he said he investigated the death of an Italian on Paint creek.

"There was a question as to whether he had been murdered in cold blood," said Mr. Reid, "or whether he had been killed in a legitimate fight between miners and mine guards. Different mine guards told me three different stories of the killing I formed my own conclusion."

Mr. Reid said he had seen one of the findings of the military commission which sentenced a miner to seven years in the penitentiary for swearing at a military officer. He was later released.

He said he saw fifty or sixty men arraigned at once by the military commission.

"They were on trial for participation in the 'battle of Mucklow,'" said the witness, "and they were charged with conspiracy to murder." Twelve of these men, the witness said, were sent to jail. These, with all other prisoners, he believed had been released.

NEW ELECTRIC SYSTEM INDORSED BY ATHENS

Extension of Duke Lines to Atlanta Via Athens Being Warmly Supported.

Athens, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The chamber of commerce of Athens is taking up the matter of the proposed extension of the Duke electric lines from Anderson, S. C., to Atlanta and is working with the view of bringing the line through Athens.

Word has been received here to the effect that if the territory between Anderson and Atlanta really wants the road and will offer the movement to extend it sufficient encouragement Mr. Duke is prepared to authorize its construction.

It is apparent, however, that the materialization of the plan will depend entirely upon the activity of the people of the territory directly interested. It seems certain that with reasonable co-operation the line will assuredly be extended to Atlanta, giving direct communication from Atlanta to Winston-Salem, through Anderson, Greenville, Spartanburg and Charlotte of an electric line built in every way upon a standard gauge railroad basis and on which is being operated now a regular train service which is being turned over to the Southern railroad at Greenville—a whole train of cars simply being transferred from one track to the other.

There is not a more up-to-date electric line in the world than the Duke lines. It is proposed to extend the system from Winston-Salem to Norfolk, reaching the ocean there, and if proper encouragement is received it will be connected with the network of railroads centering in Atlanta.

The Athens chamber of commerce will not take it for granted that this line must come through Athens, for one of the proposed routes carries it some distance north of here. Business men of this community are moving in the matter of demonstrating the wisdom of the choice of the route by Athens, believing that the selection of any route which does not include Athens would be a serious blunder. They point out that Athens is on a straight line between Anderson and Atlanta and that being the most important railroad center northeast of Atlanta, the extended electric system could not afford to miss this city. The most cordial assurance of co-operation is displayed by the city of Athens and material developments in *the movement are expected at so dis*tant date.

INTERCOLLEGE SPORTS BANNED BY ONE VOTE

Emory Trustees Turn Down Petition of Students and Alumni. The Fight to Go On.

Oxford, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—By only one vote the trustees of Emory college turned down today the unanimous petition of the student body and the monster petition of the alumni, for the introduction of intercollegiate athletics. The closeness of the vote was a surprise even to the most ardent advocates of a change, and immediately after its announcement leaders among the students and trustees declared that they would continue with renewed vigor and fight. It is expected to be taken this fall before the north and south Georgia and Florida conferences of the Methodist church, which controls the affairs of the college.

In an effort to end the fight for all time, a resolution was offered before the trustees that hereafter no more petitions on the subject would be heard from either students or trustees. This was defeated by a vote of fourteen to ten, and makes certain that the fight will go on.

Basing their reasons for the change on the necessity for doing something to stop the rapid falling off in attendance at the college, where the attendance has dropped from over 300 to slightly over 200 within the past few years, speakers among the trustees, and representatives of the students and alumni attended the change at the second day's session of the trustees meeting and it is said that several trustees changed their opinion after hearing the reasons advanced.

Foreman Represents Alumni.

Lauren Foreman, of Atlanta, spoke on behalf of the alumni, who for the past year have been making a concerted fight for the change in the athletic system of the college. On his appearance before the trustees he was accompanied by a large number of the former students attending on "alumni day."

J. H. Mathews, president of the student body and the foremost debater and speaker in college, presented the plea of the students, which was recently passed unanimously at a mass meeting.

Congressman J. Gordon Lee, Dr. Stewart R. Roberts, of Atlanta, and L. B. Robeson, of Atlanta, were among the trustees who made strong speeches for the proposed change.

At the election of trustees, Thomas Whipple Connally, of Atlanta, was chosen as alumni trustee by a vote of the graduates of the college. J. B. Wight, of Cairo, who was previously announced as having received this office, was instead elected as a regular trustee by the members themselves.

Baptist Becomes Trustee.

Mr. Connally, who thus becomes one of the rulers of the affairs of the Methodist institution, is a member of the Baptist church, being connected with Dr. John E. White's church in Atlanta. By a rule of the college only Metho-

PEACHTREE WORK WILL BE STARTED

Public Works Committee of the Fulton County Board Will Hold Meeting This Morning.

When the public works committee of the county commission meets at 10 o'clock this morning Chairman Shelby Smith will offer a resolution urging that work be started immediately to improve Peachtree street between Fifteenth street and Buckhead.

Chairman Smith stated Tuesday that he has prepared the resolution and had decided to offer it even before he was approached by a delegation of of property owners and citizens, who are interested in the improvement of that beautiful and much traversed section of the city.

An Essential Project.

"I realize, and I am sure every member of the county commission realizes, that the improvement of Peachtree from Fifteenth to the city limits is one of the most essential projects confronting the county," Chairman Smith said. "I am anxious that the work be started at once. By stripping the street of the old surface and repairing it the county will relieve the conditions. However, I do not propose to try and make a per*manent improvement by simply re*pairing it. The street needs a new pavement, and the sooner the county does the work the greater will be the saving in the cost and the comfort of the people who use the thoroughfare."

Members of the county commission agree that Peachtree is the most important thoroughfare of Atlanta. It not only absorbs practically all the traffic in the city, but it is the only beautiful thoroughfare through which visitors are taken to see the most splendid residential section of the state.

Strong pressure has been brought to bear on the commissioners to put down a new pavement this year, but because of the press of other improvements in other parts of the city it has been found that the work could not be started this year.

New Pavement Next Year.

Chairman Smith believes that the best plan for the county to pursue is to send a squad of men out to repair the street. He claims that it can be put in first-class condition for the time being and next year the county can do a new job. The property owners in Peachtree who desire relief are determined to have something done this year. It is understood that those will be satisfied if the county will repair the pavement this year and put the street down new next year.

Chairman Smith will outline his plans to the committee Wednesday morning. He says he has little doubt but that it will meet with the approval of the entire committee and that within thirty days the repair squad will be a work.

UNFROCKED PARSON WEDS HIS AFFINITY AFTER MANY YEARS

Stamford, Conn., June 10.—Jere Knede Cooke and Floretta Whaley were married here today at the home of the pastor of a local hotel this morning. The witnesses were a party of friends who came here with the couple last evening.

The unfrocked Episcopal clergyman and his bride came here late last evening after a trip to Williamantic to get a certified copy of the decree of divorce in favor of Mrs. Marinda Clarke Cooke. The certified copy was a necessary preliminary to the application for a marriage license in this state.

This morning Cooke and Miss Whaley obtained a marriage license as soon as the license clerk's office opened, and shortly after 9 o'clock the mar*riage service was read.*

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke then returned to their home in New York.

The divorce decree granted to the former Mrs. Cooke named as corespondent Floretta Whaley, with whom Cooke eloped from Hempstead, L. I., six years ago. Two children have been born to the pair since that time. Since his expulsion from the ministry Cooke has been working as a house painter in New York.

GIRL AT ORGAN HIT BY LIGHTNING BOLT IN COUNTRY CHURCH

Jackson, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Miss Grace Barnes, organist of the Macedonia Baptist church in the eastern section of Butts county, was struck by lightning and severely injured Sunday afternoon while the Sunday school was in session. Another lady who sat at her side was uninjured, although the bolt shattered a plank beneath her feet.

The interior of the church was damaged from the bolt which struck upon the belfry. The church was completed last year on the place where the first house of worship was built in the county.

Atlantan Finds His Wife In the Wild West Parade

MR. AND MRS. JOHN R. EDWARDS.

It was the day of the circus—that is, Monday. Buffalo Bills wild west parade was marching down Whitehall street and across the viaduct into Peachtree. Throngs of spectators lined the sidewalk on either side of the street.

Suddenly the saddle girth of one of the lady riders became loose and the saddle turned, threatening the rider with disaster. A man from among the spectators on the sidewalk rushed out and caught her, saving her from a fall. They gazed into each others' eyes for an instant and then there was a mutual exclamation of recognition.

"My God, it's Agnes," the man cried.

"Why, Jack, of all the people in the world, I least expected to see you," was the reply. "Where have you been and what are you doing in Atlanta?"

Finds Wife in Parade.

The man was John R. Edwards, a stonecutter at the quarries near the city. The Girl was known to the show people as Miss Agnes Slade, but to the man she was Mrs. John R. Edwards.

Incredible as this story of their chance meeting may seem, it was indeed his wife, from whom he had separated, after a bitter quarrel in Boston, fifteen months ago. They had never dreamed of meeting each other in Atlanta.

But show parades may not stop for lovers' meetings, even when the lovers are husband and wife who have not seen each other for more than a year, and there was just time for Jack to inquire after Mrs. Keller where he might see her again and for her to tell him how he might find her at the park where the show was to go on in the afternoon. By the time the saddle was in place again, the girth tightened, the lady mounted and the parade moved on.

There was one man in Atlanta whom you may be sure was at the show that afternoon. As soon as the performance was over, which was the longest either had ever known, they were together once more. Then they began to relate to each other the adventures with which each had met since the deplored estrangement had parted them in Boston.

Enlists in Marine.

Almost in despair over the separation that had left him without a home, he had re-enlisted in the United States marines, in which he had served before their marriage. He had been to Nicaragua in the troubles down there last year, had been in two battles, been wounded and promoted to the rank of corporal. His wife listened eagerly to his story of adventure. Finally, she could stand it no longer.

"Jack," she said, "you know I love you, and now I love you more than ever, a thousand times, since I have learned of all you have been through. Let's go back together again. I'm tired of the show, anyway."

At that he gave an exclamation of joy which was heard outside of the tent, and which made even the blase circus performers wonder.

So all their old quarrels were forgotten, never to be even so much as thought of again. She is to come back as soon as she finishes her engagement with the show, which will be in only two weeks, and then they are to live together in Atlanta.

RELATES VAGUE STORY OF HUSBAND'S MURDER

Arthur Kellar and 7-Year-Old Daughter, Both Insured, Are Slain in Bed.

Harrisonville, Mo., June 10.—Arthur Kellar, a railway employee living here, was murdered with an ax in his home here last night and his 7-year-old daughter was seriously wounded. A blow aimed at Mrs. Kellar struck the side of the bed and awakened her.

Mrs. Kellar leaped from the bed, she said, and after struggling with the murderer, drove him from the house. She then gave the alarm and soon a posse was searching for the slayer.

Two children were sleeping beside Mrs. Kellar, who was in a room adjoining that in which her husband and the 7-year-old girl slept. It is believed the murderer intended to kill the two small children also. There is no clue to the murderer.

Nathan Kellar, brother of the murdered man, testified at the inquest that Arthur carried $1,000 insurance and his wife was the beneficiary. There was an insurance policy of $1,000 on the life of Margaret, the wounded daughter, the brother said, but he was not sure who was the beneficiary.

According to other testimony Kellar and his wife had quarreled frequently.

Mrs. Kellar's description of the murderer was vague. Officers testified that Mrs. Kellar, when she appeared at a neighbor's house and told of the tragedy wore her night clothing and carried the bloody ax.

ATWOOD MAKES FLIGHT AND FAILS TO SHOW UP

Sandusky, Ohio, June 10.—Harry Atwood, the aviator, who left Ecorse, Mich., in his hydro-aeroplane this afternoon for a trip over Lake Erie to this city, had not reached here tonight. No word has been received as to his whereabouts, and his assistant was alarmed as to his safety.

WOMAN MEETS DEATH IN RIOT OF STRIKERS

Seven Others Wounded When Pickets Interfere With the Strike-Breakers.

Ipswich, Mass., June 10.—One woman was shot and killed, seven other persons were wounded by bullets and many others, including several policemen, were hurt by flying missiles in a strike riot outside of the Ipswich Hosiery mills tonight. Fifteen persons, including leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, were arrested.

The dead woman was Nocoletta Faudelopeulou, aged 27, a spectator of the fight. Five of the wounded were hurried to the Salem hospital in an automobile. All are expected to recover.

Officers were rushed here in automobiles from Salem, but order had been restored, before their arrival. The actual fighting did not last more than five minutes.

The trouble started when pickets of the Industrial Workers of the World, who have conducted a strike against the hosiery mills for seven weeks to gain an increase in wages, interfered with the 500 English-speaking employees as they left the mills tonight.

Policemen tried to protect the employes, but could not restore order. Chairman Hall, of the board of selectmen, began reading the riot act, but bricks and bottles began to fly and the police charged the mob. According to spectators, shots were fired from two tenement houses occupied by mill hands. Officers began firing and the mob broke and fled.

Several victims of bullets were stretched on the pavement. Blood was trickling down the faces of many of the officers where broken bottles and bricks had hit them.

Among the fifteen persons arrested are Nathan Herman, an organizer of the Industrial Workers, and E. L. Pingree, secretary of the Industrial Workers in Lowell, and his wife.

NOTEBOOK WILL PROVE REPORTS WERE 'PADDED,' HE SAYS IN AFFIDAVIT

Young Stenographer, Who Made the Report of the Conversation in Room No. 31 Williams House, Voluntarily Makes Statement Before a Notary Public in the City of Washington D. C., Where He Is Employed.

ASSERTS THAT HE LEFT ATLANTA WHEN INFORMED OVER TELEPHONE HE MIGHT BE PUT UNDER ARREST

Swears That A. S. Colyar Has Made Effort to Purchase His Original Notes, Which Are Now in Possession of His Brother — "Grand Jury Should Make an Investigation" Declares Mayor James G. Woodward.

The sworn charge that the dictagraph statements, alleged to have been made by Colonel Thomas B. Felder, Mayor James G. Woodward and Charles C. Jones, in Room No. 31, Williams house, were "padded" was brought back to Atlanta last night by Ed O. Miles, a private detective, and turned over to Mayor Woodward.

The affidavit was composed and sworn to by George M. Gentry, the stenographer who took the dictagraph conversations. Detective Miles located Gentry in Washington, D. C., where he has been employed during the past two weeks. The affidavit was sworn to before Jeannette Henning, a notary public.

GENTRY WILLING TO RETURN WHENEVER HE IS NEEDED HERE.

"Gentry was willing to come back to Atlanta with me," Detective Miles said last night. "He has promised to work out the remainder of the month, and has assured me that he will return at the end of that time, or earlier if he is wanted."

Aside from the charge that his stenographic notes were "padded" by A. S. Colyar, and that he was paid $50 for the part he played in the dictagraph drama, Gentry says that he left Atlanta because he could not bear the humiliation which he knew he would suffer after he learned that his notes had been altered.

His affidavit bears out the statement made by Mayor Woodward, immediately after the publication of the dictagraph scandal, to the effect that he did not mention the names of Chief of Police James L. Beavers or Detective Chief Newport Lanford.

Gentry also swears that a reporter called at his home after the publication of the dictagraph statements and informed him that warrants had been issued for the arrest of Colyar, Gay C. Febuary and himself (Gentry), and that he left the city upon being informed that he would not be allowed to give bond.

BROTHER HAS ORIGINAL NOTES; "COLYAR TRIED TO BUY THEM."

According to the affidavit, the original notes taken by Gentry are in the possession of his brother. He charges that an effort was made to purchase them. He mentions Colyar as the man who tried to secure his notes.

Mayor Woodward, Colonel Thomas B. Felder and Charles C. Jones, the victims of the dictagraph scandal, would not comment on the Gentry affidavit.

"I think it is up to the grand jury to look into the matter and see if there hasn't been forgery committed," Mayor Woodward said. "The affidavit bears out all that I have said. The whole thing was a frame-up. Now, let the public see who has done the framing."

"I knew that there was something wrong the minute I read the statement alleged to have been made by me," said Charles C. Jones, after he was shown the Gentry affidavit. "I didn't have very much to say, and I don't remember mentioning the names of Chief Beavers or Chief Lanford as often as I was quoted. I knew that something was wrong the minute I entered the room, and was on my guard."

POLICE CHIEFS FAVOR SEGREGATED DISTRICT

Washington, June 10.—"Brass band" methods of reformers in dealing with the "social evil" were denounced at today's session of the annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. The speakers urged better and saner legislation to aid the police in controlling this problem. It developed during the discussion that more of the police department heads favored the segregated district as opposed to an attempt at total suppression.

A resolution was adopted providing for a committee to study the problem.

AS HUBBY PLAYS POLO WIFE OBTAINS DIVORCE

Portland, Me., June 10.—Maude Livingstone Waterbury was granted a divorce from her husband, Lawrence Waterbury, of New York, a member of the American cup defending polo team, in the supreme court today. Cruel and abusive treatment was the cause alleged in the divorce libel.

Mrs. Weatbury, whose name was Hall, was given the custody of her two children, Lawrence, Jr., and Anna L., with the stipulation that the father may have access to them at reasonable times. Alimony was not asked for by Mrs. Waterbury.

Lanford Doesn't Believe Gentry Signed Affidavit.

"I do not believe Gentry signed this affidavit. I think it is a forgery, pure and simple. If he did, then he lied—lied straight out, lied maliciously. It is absolutely false that the dictagraph record was padded. There's not a word of truth in it. I can prove it. Others can prove it. This is all a scheme to clear the skirts of a lot of dirty politicians."

Thus did Chief Lanford caustically arraign the affidavit from Washington when he was informed of its receipt. He says that not until he has seen and talked with the young stenographer will he believe that Gentry attested to the document, and, that if Gentry does admit its authorship, he will brand that youth a liar.

"I never saw Gentry but once in my life," the chief declared, "and that was the day of the dictagraph conversations. He came to my office. *My secretary, G. C. Febuary, recom*mended him as a rapid and efficient stenographer. That was the first I even knew of his existence. I know little about the young man, but what I do leads me to believe that he never attested to any such affidavit. And, besides, I do not believe he is in Washington. I think he is still right here in Atlanta. Anyway, you'll have to show me before I believe otherwise."

Here Is Gentry's Affidavit, Sworn to in Washington.

Mr. Gentry's affidavit in full is as follows:

District of Columbia, City of Washington—Personally appeared before me, the undersigned, a notary public, of the District of Columbia, George M. Gentry, who on oath states that:

On Wednesday, May 21, 1913, at or about 10 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Gay C. Febuary called me over the telephone and desired to know if I would do some stenographic work for him. I told him I would, but that I couldn't get off until noon. He said that they were in a hurry, and that he would like for me to come at once, so I arranged to get off and went down to his office. He took me into the chief's office and the chief told me he wanted me to take down some testimony and he asked me if I could write very fast. Mr. Febuary asserted Chief Lanford that I was a good stenographer and could do the work all right. The chief then told me that the work he wanted done required somebody that could be trusted all right and I assured him that I always treated all stenographic work I did as confidential. Chief Lanford told me then that what he wanted me to do was to take down a conversation that would take place in a hotel and he asked me if I thought I could take it over a dictagraph. Mr. Surles—referring in fact that time with a satchel which he opened and which contained wires and other paraphernalia in connection with a dictagraph outfit).

Went to Williams House.

After a few minutes, during which time Mr. Febuary was absent, we went over to the Williams House No. 1 on North Forsyth street, Atlanta, Fulton county, Georgia. Mr. Febuary and Surles and I came immediately to go into room No. 21 of this hotel. Mr. Surles and Mr. Febuary went there, and they did not go to the trouble of engagements for adjoining rooms, as Mr. Surles commented to me that they hadn't decided just what they would do. The operative. After a time Colyar came in and instructed Surles to follow him and gave me instructions to await his return. Then Mr. Febuary came in and I told him that it I had to wait much longer by myself I was going back to the office. I was then allowed to come into the room, where they were installing the dictagraphs (one on each bedstead of the bottom board of the bed just under the bottom drawer on the back of the board). The wires being run through the keyhole of the door in room 21 and room 22. The bureau was then screwed against the door facing. At about 12:30 I started getting accustomed to Febuary's and Colyar's voice.

Could Distinguish Voices.

At first I could not hear at all, but gradually I would begin to hear more distinctly and after an hour or two of diligent practice I was able to distinguish the voices very clearly. Right at the beginning I found that I would not be able to hear anything when the water flows up. When they were closed it became rather stuffy and this, coupled with the strain I was under, caused my distraction. I practiced practicing at 2:45 that afternoon and went downstairs to the office of the hotel, where I awaited Chief Lanford's arrival. I saw him cross Forsyth street, and after he, Febuary and Colyar went upstairs, or were just about at the top of the stairs, I started up and saw the three enter room 21 of the Williams house, located as mentioned previously. I then immediately went into room 32 and closed the door partly, but did not lock it. The windows were down and so I went directly to the table and replaced the receiver over my head and started writing what I heard. I took down all the conference that took place. At somewhere around 5 that afternoon I left the hotel and went to Mr. E. B. Bliss' house and took some dictation. From there I went home and changed my collar. I returned to the office of the General Fire Extinguisher company, 276 Marietta street, where I was employed as a stenographer, and I wrote the dictation he had given me, signed his initials and then met Mr. Febuary there at the office. We went to the Candler restaurant to supper and from there we returned to the Williams house to keep an appointment with Colyar at about 7:30. At about 8:30 Mr. Surles and Mr. J. C. Jones and Colyar went up to the "conference room" and Mr. Febuary and I to the "information reception room."

Preparing for the Trap.

I placed the receiver over my head, and in order to be sure that I would hear everything, Mr. Febuary stood behind me and held them pressed tightly to my ears. This conference lasted about thirty minutes. Between 8:30 and 9:15 Wednesday night Mr. Febuary loafed about town, as we had an appointment with Mr. Branch and Mr. Pascal at 9:30 at the Williams house, and as they were not in The Journal office, we had to kill time until they arrived. At 9:30 Mr. Febuary and Mr. Colyar at The Journal office at 9:15 and went over to the Williams house (room 21 of the hotel above. They came in shortly and we went over to The Journal office and Mr. Febuary, Mr. Branch, Mr. Pascal and myself) went up to the editorial department, where a machine was selected for me to work transcribing what I had heard.

Right at the start I made Colyar acutely nervous when I did not hear what was said I would dashes and I allowed him to dictate several answers and questions, which do not appear in the book and which I am not positive that I heard. I did not hear Master Woodward mention Chief Beavers, Chief Lanford during the whole conversation, nor did I write it in the transcription of my notes, these names being evidently added by other parties. At 4:30 Thursday morning, May 22, I finished transcribing my notes and turned the papers over to Mr. Febuary. Later during the morning he came down to the office, bringing an affidavit which I had written me to sign before a notary public. He told me that they had made only a few minor changes in the transcription and that if I had to do was to sign the Affidavit, which I did. However, noticed that some interlineations had been made in my notes, rather—Chief Lanford's copy, as I had no copy.

Notes Altered, Says Gentry.

Colyar had declared that before I started to transcribe my notes, arguefas to the number of copies that should be made. They agreed that one copy should be made for the chief, one for Colyar and one for The Journal, and that no more should be made. This I kept me from making any copy of my notebook, however, and it was the comparison of my notes with the published articles that led to my discovery that in addition to the several answers and questions which Colyar had personally dictated, other changes had been made, namely the insertion of the names of Chief Beavers and Chief Lanford, in the conference with Master Woodward, also many other variations occurred, changing the sense of the statement, and since they had my affidavit attached to the papers I felt that I had been duped.

As to the remuneration for my services, will say that The Journal reporters, Branch and Pascal, agreed to pay me $5 to get the work written Wednesday night, so it could be published in Thursday's paper. Saturday morning, before the appearance of the article in Friday's Journal, The Georgian's reporter came to the office and offered me either $25 or $45, I do not recollect which, for a copy of the conference with Mayor Woodward, Febuary, Miles and Colyar, and Miles, Jones and Colyar's conference. I declined the offer. I then went to see The Journal's reporters and told them that The Georgian had offered me money for a copy of the conferences, and they agreed to pay me $30 to hold my notebook from Saturday until Monday. I turned my notebook over to Mr. Brice, who gave it to his stenographer to keep until Monday. Later during the day the stenographer told me that The Georgian had gotten a copy, and so I was too late. I then went down to Mr. Brice's office and asked Miss M——, Mr. Brice's stenographer, for my notebook, and I took it home and locked it up. Monday, when I went up to see Major Cohen about $50 I went down to look for Mr. Brice, whom he was unable to find. Later we went back upstairs together and Branch and Pascal explained to him their promise to pay me $50 for allowing The Journal to retain my notebook. However, some argument arose over the fact that I took my notebook out of The Journal's office Saturday night. I told them that they had agreed to give me $50 for the making a copy for The Georgian, and that I had not made the copy for The Georgian, and had, therefore, carried out my part of the compact. They then told me to come back later on and see Mr. Brice about it. I returned after awhile, believe it was around 1 o'clock, and Mr. Brice paid me the amount in currency and took my receipt.

"Lanford Has Not Paid."

Chief Lanford has not as yet paid me for my services, from the fact that I have not rendered a bill.

Saturday morning, before the publication of the Woodward conference, held at 4 o'clock Wednesday, May 21, as previously mentioned, and the Jones conference, held at 8 o'clock the same night, I went to the editorial department of The Journal and requested a proof of what they were going to print. Colyar, who had one reading it, declined to allow me to have a proof, and so I left The Journal building, suspicious.

Saturday afternoon I went down to the office, carrying with me my original notebook and a copy of Friday's and Saturday's Journal. I compared them all the way through and noted the many variations in what was printed and what I had in my notes. I realized that my transcriptions had been tampered with, and that I had just cause for the suspicions which were aroused by their refusal to allow me to read the proofs Saturday morning.

Having signed the affidavits, at Mr. Febuary's request, in which I swore to what I had heard, and seeing something entirely different published, I became very nervous and uneasy. Saturday night when I went home, a reporter called up and said he was one of The Journal reporters and wanted to see me a few minutes. I told him to come over. He came in and introduced himself to me as Mr. Starr, of The Journal. My mother and aunt recognized his voice as that of a reporter who had called shortly before I came home, and said he was from The Georgian. They both rushed into the sitting room and told me that he was not with The Journal, but was the same fellow that came a few minutes ago and said he was from The Georgian. I told him that he was from The Journal, although he had told both myself, and my grandfather, who went to answer the door bell, that he was from The Journal. Just before he left he informed me that a warrant was sworn out for Febuary's, Colyar's and my arrest, and upon my directing him as to where the door out could be found, he departed, saying that he had got the information he wanted.

Told He I Would Be Arrested.

Sunday afternoon at the office, someone called me up and informed me that I would probably be arrested Monday. I did not recognize the voice, and the party would not tell me who it was. They also informed me that I would have to make bond in order to be released. I told them that he was, and they hung up or were cut off.

Monday morning Colyar requested that I turn my notebook over to The Journal and that I also have the affidavit I would show him a receipt from The Journal for the notebook. I came down to The Journal to have the notebook, but instead gave it to my brother to take home and instructed him to allow no one to have it.

Developments later showed me the character of some of the people connected with this transaction and it was then I realized that I was afraid to face the humiliation that I thought would result, and also the fact that they had changed my transcription showed to me very clearly that I was mixed up with a bunch of crooks.

I am prepared to read my notes whenever it becomes necessary. These notes are correct as I heard.

The foregoing affidavit is made by me voluntarily, unsolicited, and no money or the promise of any remuneration whatever has been offered to me for making it, my sole motive being to give the straight history of my connection with the now "infamous" dictagraph affair.

PUBLICITY LAW VALID, SAYS SUPREME COURT

Washington, June 10.—As interpreted by the supreme court today, the law which upheld the constitutionality of the newspaper publicity law enacted as a part of the postal appropriation act of 1912.

The particular section attacked was to bar every newspaper and periodical from the mails unless the editors or owners filed with the postal authorities semi-annual sworn statements giving the names of the editors, owners, stockholders and bondholders for immediate publishing in the statement. It also forbade publication of paid-for articles without marking them "advertisement."

The Journal of Commerce and Commercial bulletin of New York sought to have the United States district court for southern New York enjoin the postmaster general from enforcing the act on the ground that it was unconstitutional. The district court then raised was that the law abridged the freedom of the press. The government defended the law as a regulation of the use of the second class mail privileges.

Mr. Connallly has been the leader among the alumni for intercollegiate athletics and his election is taken by those favoring the change to mean that a majority of the former students favor it.

The alumni address was delivered today by Judge H. E. W. Palmer, of Atlanta, who spoke on "Ernest Ideals," and delivered a splendid address before a large gathering of visiting alumni.

The annual barbecue was rained out and dinner was served in Sency hall.

The literary address was delivered tonight by Dr. F. J. Prettyman, chaplain of the United States senate, who spoke on "The Dictionary and Development of Personality."

HOT REPLIES MADE TO LOBBY PROBERS

Governor Carter Says He Was Told by Senator He Could Get Hearing "After Passage of Bill."

Washington, June 10.—For six hours today former Governor Carter and Sidney Ballou, two of the men who have conducted the fight of Hawaiian producers in Washington to retain a duty on sugar, outlined to the senate lobby investigating committee their activities while here.

Governor Carter testified that he was paid nothing and had received only his expenses. Mr. Ballou said he was the regular agent of the sugar producers in Washington, with a salary of $12,000 a year, and $3,000 a year for expenses. Both agreed that about $100,000 had been spent by sugar people in their campaign against free sugar, but denied there had been any tangible combination between the United States refining company and Hawaiian cane producers with a common fund directed to influencing legislation. The session at times grew warm.

Senator Walsh and Reed put Governor Carter through a sharp cross examination under which the witness answered flatly that he had not lied to himself. He declared that an audience with President Wilson for the Hawaiian sugar men had been denied by Secretary Tumulty and a member of the senate finance subcommittee in charge of sugar had suggested that they be given a hearing "after the passage of the bill." Mr. Ballou said later that Senator Gore had made this statement.

"They Must Vote for It."

Governor Carter said that three senators, Swanson, Lewis and Williams, had told him or Hawaiian friends that they were not in sympathy with free sugar, but since it was advocated by the democratic party they must vote for it. He declared that he had got no satisfaction when he spoke of hearings to members of the cabinet, congressmen and senators.

"Secretary Lane told me," he said, "that it was a legislative matter and the administration had nothing to do with it. I called on her and they told me it was an executive matter and they had nothing to do with it."

Mr. Ballou testified that he said in response to Senator Cummins as to his politics.

Mr. Ballou's testimony was largely corroborative of that given by Governor Carter.

TECH COMMENCEMENT COMES TO END TODAY

Dr. Herbert S. Bigelow Will Make the Graduation Address.

Tech's celebration of her twenty-fifth anniversary will come to a close today.

A demonstration by the Tech shops and mills will open the day's program on the campus, from 8:30 o'clock to 9:30 o'clock this morning. The commencement exercises will follow after a processional from the University club to the Grand opera house at 10:30 o'clock.

Dr. Herbert S. Bigelow, of Cincinnati, the commencement orator, will make the principal address of the day, on "Old Institutions and New Ideas." Following the graduation exercises the chamber of commerce will be the hosts at a luncheon to the delegates, trustees, faculty, alumni and graduating class at 1:30 o'clock.

Founders' Day a Magnet.

Founders' day served as a magnet to attract throngs of alumni to the Tech campus, and gray-haired men joined undergraduates in the program which was a tribute to the founders of the school, and those who have since that time contributed to its support. Long before the appointed hour hundreds gathered in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian association, where the day program was opened at 10 o'clock with Dr. K. G. Matheson in the chair.

Picturing his little shop at Emory, which occasionally attracted a few young men, who sought technical instruction, Dr. I. S. Hopkins, the first president of Tech, discussed pioneer work for technical education in Georgia. Judge N. E. Harris, president of the board of trustees, who introduced into the legislature the bill founding the Georgia School of Technology, paid a high tribute, not only to the support Tech has been given in a financial way, but also to the standing Tech graduates have given their alma mater.

Sam Inman Speaks.

Recollections of the founding of the Georgia School of Technology characterized several of the addresses. S. M. Inman spoke of the history of the school as an inspiration to greater effort in the future, and Dr. W. W. Emerson, Tech's dean, delivered a eulogy on the first president, Dr. I. S. Hopkins.

The first faculty and its problems were treated in the remarks of Dr. J. S. Coon, head of the department of mechanical engineering, who has been with Tech since it was founded. Hal Nowell, of Walton county, a graduate in the class of 1883, discussed the value to the south of technically trained men.

Wilmer L. Moore, president of the chamber of commerce, spoke of Atlanta and the Georgia school of Technology, and Professor Edward Holmes stressed the influence of Tech on the secondary schools of Georgia. Rev. E. Lyman Hood spoke on the technical school in higher education. Music between the speeches was furnished by the Tech orchestra.

Fambrough Made President.

At the Alumni association meeting Dr. W. M. Fambrough, a member of the 1903 class, was elected president; Robert Gregg, '05, vice president, and B. F. Marks, '07, secretary treasurer. A resolution was adopted to present loving cups to Nat Harris, president of the board of trustees, and Dr. L. G. Hopkins, Tech's first president.

A free-for-all debate for the good of Tech followed the election of officers, and a storm of applause greeted Coach J. W. Heisman's prophecy of bright prospects for athletic success. Robert Gregg, and the retiring president, A. R. Colcord, were among the speakers.

President Fambrough announced an alumni committee composed of Robert L. Maddox, '08; C. L. Emerson, '08; L. W. Roberts, '08. Mr. Gregg and Mr. Roberts were appointed alumni members of the advisory board of the Athletic association.

Dr. Smith Speaks.

"From America idealism, the entire world has taken its inspiration, and recent years have marked an even higher idealism than ever. Instead of that personal perfection, which is not a bad kind, communal perfection is the modern idealism," said Dr. Alphonso Smith, Ph. D., LL. D., the Founders' day orator at the Tech celebration at the Grand last night.

GOOD JOB SOUGHT FOR CALVIN HITCH

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 10.—(Special.)—Senator Hoke Smith declared himself as greatly surprised today at Senator Bacon's protest to the president against the nomination of A. O. Blalock as collector of internal revenue for the district of Georgia. He had understood, he said, that Senator Bacon had withdrawn Calvin M. Hitch from the race and was urging him for another position. In this effort to land another job for Mr. Hitch, Senator Smith said he had been co-operating with Senator Bacon.

In his statement to The Constitution representative last night Senator Bacon said Mr. Hitch was his candidate for collector and he had no second choice until Hitch was given some federal appointment equally as good as the collectorship now held by Henry S. Jackson. Among the places he has sought for Mr. Hitch was that of commissioner of internal revenue, which was awarded to William H. Osborne, of North Carolina.

Then he indorsed Mr. Hitch to Secretary of State Bryan for a position in the state department. In this latter indorsement Senator Smith joined.

No Sign of Compromise.

Neither of the two Georgia senators have shown any disposition today to get together. Both are standing out firmly for their men. A solution is forecast in the willingness of both senators to get something for Mr. Hitch, who will then be out of the way. He was Senator Bacon's clerk for years, was a conservative clerk under Senator Hoke Smith when the latter was governor. He was also connected with the Democratic headquarters during the last gubernatorial campaign.

In discussing the controversy which has arisen between him and Senator Bacon over the collectorship of internal revenue, the only federal officials in Georgia having state-wide jurisdiction, Senator Smith said today:

"I am surprised to learn of any objection to ex-Senator Blalock for the position of collector of internal revenue. Before indorsing him I consulted Senator Bacon and most of the congressmen. I thought all favored his appointment. At one time Senator Bacon spoke of Mr. Calvin Hitch for the position, but when he asked to be relieved his appointment to another position. I am cordially for Blalock, and have no second choice. I have joined with Senator Bacon in presenting Mr. Hitch for a place in the state department, and I had understood from Mr. Hitch that he had abandoned all idea of applying for the position of collector. I am surprised at this latest development."

MINE STRIKE WAR IN WEST VIRGINIA

The witness said that last March he attended three trials before the military commission at Pratt in the Paint Creek section.

"Mother Jones and about ninety-eight other prisoners were to be tried," said Mr. Reid.

Nabbed for Interview.

Mr. Reid said he was arrested for interviewing "Mother Jones," but was later released.

He described the procedure before the military tribunal and said that the miners tried were allowed to be represented by counsel. They were kept in a "bull pen" while awaiting trial.

Mr. Reid reviewed the three declarations of martial law and the actions of the three military commissions.

"The first two commissions did not try prisoners in public," he said, "not until the last commission created were the proceeding in the trial made public."

During the examination of Mr. Reid, "Mother Jones" entered the committee room.

During the disorder, Mr. Reid said, the civil courts were in session and were not prevented from exercising their functions.

Former Representative Joseph R. Gaines was called to describe the judicial procedure of West Virginia and jurisdiction of the various courts. He said the various courts had been open and working throughout the affected district at all times.

State Constitution Read.

Opening his case under the section of the senate resolution authorizing the investigation which directs an inquiry into this subject, Senator Borah, at a brief session of the committee this afternoon, read into the record several excerpts from the constitution of West Virginia. The first was that the provision declaring that the constitution of the state and of the United States shall always be in effect. The second provision declared that under no circumstance shall the right of habeas corpus be denied. The third was the usual provision that no citizens shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law. The fourth set forth that the military authority shall no supersede the civil powers, even under the plea of necessity, and that persons provided for trial by jury in open court for all criminal offenses.

The activity of the state authorities in connection with the strike will be proved by the committee, in view of these constitutional guarantees and senators declared the miners have not been accorded their full rights which will be investigated with these provisions in mind.

Neither the attorneys for the mine operators nor the workers were prepared to begin the examination of witnesses when the committee opened its hearing this afternoon and the first witness was not called until the committee had received a formidable array of counsel was on hand, however.

Two lengthy preliminary statements were filed with the committee by attorneys for the contestants. The first was filed for the operators generally and the second for the Paint Creek collieries company. In both these pleas of "not guilty," and both denied in detail and in tot the charges made in the resolution passed by the senate authorizing the inquiry. The operators in their brief made the counter charge that the United Mine Workers of America are responsible "to a great extent" for the coal miners in the West Virginia field was responsible for the violence which has characterized the strike.

Deny Knowledge of Peonage.

"We know of no system of peonage and believe none exists or has been practiced in the fields," said the brief. An investigation by the department of justice found no such system, it held. Specific denials were made that the postal service had been interfered with, that the immigration laws had been violated and that rights of citizens had been violated.

"On the question of the trials of citizens under martial law, the brief defended former Governor Glasscock for declaring martial law, and Governor Hatfield for continuing it.

"The situation confronting the governor on September 28, 1912," said the brief, "was a terrible one, rarely since the days of 1861-65 has the executive of an American state had to face and act under similar circumstances."

The proceedings under martial law, the brief held, has been declared legal by the supreme court of appeals of the state. The operators declared they expect to prove that a conspiracy exists, in which the United Mine Workers are the active parties, for diminishing the competitive ability of West Virginia coal in the market and that the troubles in the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek fields "are the direct results of such conspiracy." The operators declare they also expect to prove that firearms and ammunition were brought into the state for use in acts of lawlessness and violence designed to keep the Paint Creek and Cabin Creek mines idle until the United Mine Workers of America should be recognized.

The statement presented by the Paint Creek Collieries company made similiar denials and similar charges.

The committee called on Governor Hatfield, who said he would aid the investigators in any way possible, and expressed a desire that the investigation be full and complete.

Former Governor Glasscock will appear before the committee on Thursday.

DON'T SUFFER WITH INDIGESTION OR STOMACH TROUBLE--- QUAKER HERB EXTRACT WILL CURE YOU

Thousands of Atlanta's Best Citizens Have Been Cured by Quaker.

The Health Teacher, when here, had proven to the people of Atlanta, the same as he has in thousands of others, that when sick health can be brought rejoicing and happiness into thousands of homes that heretofore have been misery and sorrow, not from want of poverty, no, no, but for health and strength. In some homes it was a darling baby or older child, whose little life seemed to be fading away; in many cases it was worms of some kind that a few doses of Nature's own Quaker Extract has driven the worms, and they were made well. Some homes were sorrowful on account of a poor, weak, run-down mother, who was dragging around from day to day, at times more dead than alive, a pain in back, that tired, languid feeling, could not bear anything tight around her waist, stomach would bloat, belching, shortness of breath, dizziness, headache at times, sometimes did not care to live, had tried every treatment with no relief, but here is where the Quaker Extract shows you Quaker is in a class by itself, for it cures just these kind of cases, and thousands of women and children are living witnesses to prove it.

The husband and father that provides for home and family, the same as Mr. K. F. Horder, No. 70 Fowler street, the popular section grocer and Singleton's market, on Cone street, has been a sufferer from indigestion most of the time, had like a lump in his throat that he could not get up or down, had been constipated, had to take pills, pellets, salts, or something all the time to make them act, he got one bottle of Quaker Extract, used it ten days, then said "Give me three more bottles of Quaker Extract, for it is the best medicine in the world, for now my cheeks are pink, my stomach does not bloat, my bowels are just working fine, and it's the only medicine I ever took that just toned and seemed to build me right up."

Mrs. E. W. Gorman, who resides at Ninth street, who was laid up three months with rheumatism in arms, shoulders, back and lower limbs, so bad that she could not put her foot on the floor in weeks, tried every known remedy without even relief, and two bottles of Quaker Extract and two 25c bottles of Oil of Balm has cured her. She now feels like a girl, no aches or pains, and says that Quaker Extract and Oil of Balm did more for her than one hundred dollars worth of other medicine.

Now this is the way the Health Teacher proves what he says. Quaker Remedies cure, even where all others have failed, hundreds of people have had their hearing restored, the sense of taste and smell all brought back, people with stiff limbs and joints have all been made well. Call at Coursey & Nunn's drug store, 29 Marietta street, for the Quaker Herb Extract, 2 for $2.50, or for $5.00. Oil of Balm 25c, or 2 for $1.00. We prepay all express charges of $3.00 or over. # LANFORD SILENT ON ROSSER'S CARD

Detective Chief Says He Has No Reply to Make to the Charges of Counsel for Leo M. Frank.

Following the public letter written yesterday by Luther Z. Rosser, counsel for Leo Frank, Detective Chief Newport Lanford said that he had no reply to make to the charges and that hereafter he intended to adopt a policy of silence.

The chief smiled frequently while reading the attorney's statement, but he positively declined to comment on it.

"Henceforth," he stated briefly, "it will be the attitude of the detective department to avoid publicity. It should have been done heretofore."

Lanford declared that Rosser's card is only an attempt to draw the detective chief into a newspaper controversy, which he intended to avert.

"It is all a scheme—nothing else," he said "and I do not propose to be made a victim."

The statement of Frank's counsel is a scathing arraignment of Chief Lanford and his department for alleged efforts to prove guilty a white man, against whom prejudice had been created, through the "lying" stories of a negro, against whom all "legitimate" suspicion already was directed.

It follows:

Mr. Rosser's Statement.

Editor Atlanta Constitution:

Felder and Lanford, in an effort to make progress in their feud, charge each other with giving aid to Leo Frank. Lanford charges that Felder was employed by Frank and is seeking for that reason to shield him. Felder charges Lanford did his associates are also seeking for some reason, to shield and protect Frank.

Both charges are untrue and, at a time when no harm could come to an innocent man, might well be treated as antitheses to monotony.

Unfortunately, however, the present situation is such that fair-minded citizens may be misled by these counter charges.

Felder does not, nor has he at any time directly or indirectly, represented Frank. For Lanford to charge the contrary does Frank a serious injustice.

Felder Against Frank.

If Chief Lanford had been in a sane, normal mood, he would have known that every act of Felder has been against Frank. The engagement of the Burns agency ought to have satisfied Lanford. No detective agency of half prudence would have double-crossed the Atlanta department in the Phagan case. Nor did Felder have excuse for suspicion against Lanford. There was reason to suspect his fairness, his accuracy and the soundness of his methods, but not his reckless zeal against Frank.

Had Felder been in a calm mood I am sure he would never have charged the chief and his associates with intention to help Frank.

Lanford at once, as soon as Felder charged him with favoring Frank, settled in his mind the guilt of Frank, and from that moment has bent every energy of his department, not in finding the murderer, but in trying to prove to the public that Felder was wrong in charging him with trying to shield Frank.

Leo Frank's Past.

His department has exhausted itself in an effort to fix upon Frank an immoral life, on the theory that a violator of the seventh commandment was likewise a murderer. This effort has failed. No man in Atlanta has had his moral character subjected to such a test and there is not in the whole city of Atlanta a half dozen men who could have more successfully stood the test.

His employees, without a single exception, have made affidavits to his uprightness. Lanford's department subpoenaed every one of them before the coroner's jury, and after keeping them more than two days did not dare to swear a single one of them.

Before and after the coroner's verdict this whole city has been combed with a fine tooth comb and a like combing has been applied to Brooklyn, the city of his birth, to find something against his moral character. With what result? The silence of the detective department gives the answer.

"Drivel and Nonsense."

Lanford's conduct in connection with the woman Formby and the negro Conley shows that he was stung by Felder's charge that he was favoring Frank, or that for some other reason he was temporarily out of his head.

He swallowed whole the statements of this Formby woman, bearing upon their face the clear proof that they were by no means to be believed.

This woman was not unknown to Lanford. She did not entrap him by appearing under the guise of a truthful, sober, virtuous woman. But so absorbed, was he, either in trying to disprove Felder's charge or in the foolish pride of opinion, that he accepted without doubt or fair investigation the drivel and nonsense of this woman.

So far beside himself did he become that he had the folly to furnish to the papers, based upon this woman's statement, the theory that Frank, during the night of the murder, wishing to rid himself of the body, was seeking to dispose of it in a room rented from this woman.

The folly and difficulties of the theory did not disturb Lanford. They would have disturbed anybody but Lanford. His insane desire to justify himself cleared the matter of all difficulties and follies.

Conley an Ignorant Negro.

If the case of the Formby woman did not clear Lanford of Felder's charge, that of the Conley negro ought to have done so.

Conley is a very ordinary, ignorant, brutal negro, not unacquainted with the stockade. His actions immediately after the crime were suspicious. So much so that they attracted the attention of the employees of the factory and occasioned general comment. In spite of those facts, Conley was not taken into custody until several days after the crime, and not then until the employees of the factory caught him suspiciously washing a shirt and as a result reported him to the police. He was not brought before the coroner's jury, and practically no notice was taken of him in that investigation. So swiftly were Lanford and his associates pursuing Frank that they ran over this negro standing in their path with the marks of guilt clearly upon him.

Finally the pressure of public suspicion brought this negro to Lanford's attention. Conely began to talk, and negro-like, to talk so as to protect himself, and as a means thereby to cast suspicion upon someone else. Ordinarily the detectives could be trusted not to aid the negro in an effort to clear himself by placing the crime on a white man, but in this case it is to be feared that the negro was not discouraged. Lanford had finally banked all his sense, all his reputation as a man and a policeman upon Frank's guilt and it would be remarkable if he discouraged this negro from involving Frank. If Lanford and his followers had acted wisely and kept open minds seeking only the murderer and not seeking to vindicate their announced opinions, the negro would have by this time told the whole truth.

Conley made one statement. It did not meet the announced opinions of Lanford. He made another. This second was not up to the mark; it did not sufficiently show Frank's guilt. Another was made, which was supposed to be nearer the mark. Whereupon there was great rejoicing. Forgetting all others, this last statement—reached through such great tribulations—was proclaimed the truth, the last truth, and that there would be no other statement.

The detectives had at last got the statement which they thought sustained their views, saved their reputations and insured their places.

Full of Contradictions.

But what a statement! So full of contradictions, so evidently made for self-protection and wherein was so easily apparent the guiding hand of detective. If Lanford meant to be fair, if he was only seeking the truth, why did he rush into print with the assertion that this statement was the truth and therefore of necessity the last? Might he not in decency have left this negro to his own will, unbiased by the opinion that the statement was true and the last to be given? Who knows but that this negro might have given numerous other statements if he had not been so heavily handicapped by Lanford's opinion?

The truth is, this negro is not to give any other or further statement if the detective department can prevent, unless made under their supervision and direction. He must, at all times, be under the influence and control of Lanford. He must have Lanford's sucking bottle at all times to his lips, sucking Lanford's views and theories of this case. The ragged places in his statement must be darned, the torn places patched, and no one but the detective department could be trusted to do that.

Thinks Conley Guilty.

No one has been rude enough to bring this negro before the grand jury, nor, indeed, to make any charge against him.

After the statement of this negro and in view of all the evidence which so strongly points to him as the slayer of little Mary Phagan, is the grand jury to leave him without charge or investigation to be wet-nursed by Lanford until Frank's trial?

Or is it the purpose to keep the negro's case from the grand jury in the nature of an offered reward to spur him on to swear his worst against the white man?

Would it not be just and decent to bring this negro's case before the grand jury and let that body hear his confession, so that it can then decide whether the negro should then be indicted?

In the shadow of this great crime let there be no thimble-rigging, let no single fact be concealed, let no man's place or reputation stand in the way of the fullest, fairest investigation.

Respectfully,
(Signed) LUTHER Z. ROSSER.

LIBERAL PARTY'S FUNDS INVESTED IN WIRELESS

London, June 10.—The purchase by Lord Murray of Elibank of three thousand Marconi shares as an investment of the funds of the liberal party was shown by evidence given today to the parliamentary committee investigating the government wireless contracts.

The evidence further showed that Lord Murray was a creditor to the amount of $150,000 of an absconding stock broker who had been engaged in the Marconi dealings. There has been no evidence this far, however, that more than $45,000 of the liberal party's funds was employed in the transaction.

Captain Arthur Cecil Murray, brother of Lord Murray, admitted on the stand that his brother's transactions were indiscreet, but thought they were not dishonorable.

MUST FACE TRIAL IN ITALIAN COURT

Porter Charlton Will Have to Answer Charge of Killing Bride on Honeymoon at Lake Como.

Washington, June 10.—Three years to a day after the discovery of the body of his wife in the waters of Lake Como, Italy, Porter Charlton lost his long fight against being turned over by his native land to the Italian government for trial on a charge of murder. The supreme court today sustained the state department's decision to deliver Charlton in compliance with Italy's demand.

Charlton was a bank clerk in New York, and his father, Paul Charlton, classmate of ex-President Taft, and until recently federal judge in Porto Rico. The young man has been held in jail in New Jersey since his arrest nearly three years ago.

Insanity was alleged as the main ground for opposing Charlton's removal to Italy, and it was further contended that the United States could not extradite one of its citizens to Italy, inasmuch as that county had refused to extradite its subjects to the United States. The supreme court held Charlton had no right to present evidence of his insanity at the extradition hearing, and that the contention as to the power to extradite was erroneous. Justice Lurton, in announcing the court's decision, however, said that impressive evidence of insanity had been offered on Charlton's behalf. It is believed a way will be found to present this conclusion at Charlton's trial in Italy.

The "mandate" of the supreme court by which its decision will be made known officially to the New Jersey courts having jurisdiction over Charlton, will be issued shortly after the court adjourns for the summer, June 16. The Italian embassy here will take no further steps in the matter, leaving such action as may be necessary to the Italian consul general at New York.

A COUNTY-WIDE DEMAND.

The public looks to the board of county commissioners at its meeting at 10 o'clock this morning to redeem the promise to find some immediate remedy for the horrible condition of Peachtree street between Fifteenth street and Buckhead. Peachtree is essentially the most non-sectional avenue in the community and annually absorbs more traffic than any other four thoroughfares in the county. The disgraceful paving on the stretch above-mentioned menaces traffic from every part of the city and county. The summer, with its added traffic burdens, is already upon us. Fortunately the board seems a unit in recognizing that the matter has now reached a crisis, that definite action of some sort must be taken this afternoon and that the gravity of the situation will not permit another postponement. The only possible point of difference is that of method.

All the commissioners are agreed that the only permanent solution of the problem lies in resurfacing the street all the way from Fifteenth to Buckhead, the only question being as to whether the work shall be done this year or next year. Some members believe it is best to put a repair squad at work putting down a temporary surface which will make the street passable for the remainder of the year, then next year to replace it with a permanent pavement.

The public will be satisfied with this plan, but will not be satisfied with any plan that does not, with a minimum of delay, make the street negotiable without danger to life and traffic. The issue is not by any means confined to Peachtree. It is one in which the entire city, all of Fulton county and many of the adjoining counties are vitally interested. Peachtree is the most important artery of traffic in Fulton county. Winter and summer it is in more constant use than any other four avenues of the city or county combined. The strain upon it comes from every style of vehicle known to human use. Wagons, autos, horses and heavy trucks from all parts of the city and county take daily a heavy toll of the paving. Since the present light paving was laid many new houses have been constructed and the water, gas and sewer connections of these structures have practically ruined the road. The stretch between Fifteenth and Buckhead is now in almost an impassable condition. It would be difficult to estimate the tax the street now lays in wear and tear on vehicles and stock.

It is fortunate that the county commissioners appear alive to the condition and that they stand committed to immediate measures of relief. All of Atlanta and all of Fulton county suffer by reason of this disgraceful dilapidated pavement. Whether the temporary or permanent plan be chosen, it is to be hoped the board will lose no time in making the street at least passable.

SPEAKING OF "TRAVESTIES."

With one reckless leap our inadvertent contemporary, The Memphis News-Scimitar, joins the sobsquad as follows:

> Let it be remembered that it was in the state of Georgia that a fifteen-year-old boy was given eleven years in a penitentiary for having stolen a bottle of soda water. The universal pace of rejecting should go up over the fact that in no other state of this union could such a travesty on justice be perpetrated.

If it is "travesties" The News-Scimitar is looking for, the first convenient mirror should stop the hunt. For the Ollie Taylor fake has now, and long since, been transformed from a "travesty on justice" to a travesty on truth, and we only regret that our esteemed neighbor should have kept itself so illy-informed as to be placed in the attitude of "perpetrating" the latter.

The Ollie Taylor yarn is nailed by the investigations of The Constitution; by a public statement from Judge Pendleton, of the superior court, who sentenced the boy; by a special investigator from the United States government, and several other sources. The boy is in the reformatory on an indeterminate sentence, not on one of eleven years. He will be discharged from the reformatory the moment he gives evidence of becoming a useful citizen. In that institution he at least has a chance to grow up into a law-abiding citizen. Left to follow his own devices, the probability is he would wind up an incurable criminal.

These are the facts. They do not afford an iota of justification for the melodramatic rot that still bobs up here and there in the press. We still cherish the hope that by the time doom's day dawns the sob artists will cease making themselves ridiculous over a little boy that should instead be solemnly congratulated on being offered an avenue of escape from a life of crime and degradation.

A LOGICAL AMENDMENT.

The favorable attitude of the people of Georgia toward the bond issue method of improving municipalities is indicated by the cordial reception the state press is according the suggestion of Judge John S. Candler, of Atlanta, looking to a simplification of that method. Judge Candler, it will be recalled, proposed to council that it ask the forthcoming legislature to submit to the people a constitutional amendment changing the present basis of ratification of municipal bond issues from a two-thirds vote of the registered voters to two-thirds of the voters participating in a bond election. His suggestion was adopted. Papers throughout the state comment approvingly on the suggestion and it is likely to go to the general assembly with substantial support.

Such a change in the organic law is thoroughly logical. Surely it is impossible to secure a fairer or safer test than the one which prescribes the manner in which the fundamental law of the state may be altered. All that is needed to secure the ratification of a constitutional amendment is a two-thirds affirmative from those voting, and not from those registered but not voting. Reversing that procedure with regard to municipal bond issues is equivalent to placing an obstacle to progress.

If a man is sufficiently interested in any election, from that of a dog-catcher on up to municipal bond issues, he is going to the polls. If he is not sufficiently interested, his indifference ought not to be permitted to penalize the alertness and public spirit of his fellow citizens. It is the stay-at-home vote, the self-disfranchised vote, that is responsible for the larger part of corruption in government and for the failure of communities to go forward.

The voting man's ballot is killed by that of the voter registered, but either dead or absent from the city or detained by urgent business from the polls. For an issue of any sort to be settled by our present method is to advance a test of sentiment that is not fair or intelligent or conclusive. We are wrong to submit the arbitration of important questions to an electorate checker-boarded with dead men, or men from any reason voluntarily disfranchised for that election.

On the side of safety, there can be no quarrel with a constitutional amendment correcting this flaw. The state constitution provides that no municipality may bond itself for an amount in excess of 7 per cent of its taxable values. That is a field safeguard. We hope the legislature will consider favorably the Candler proposition. It is in the interests of progress as against stagnation.

REVISING PENAL METHODS.

Judge T. E. Patterson, of the state prison commission, is unequivocally on record as favoring a legislative commission to investigate and revise the penal system and the criminal court procedure of Georgia. Agitation to those ends is crystallizing throughout the state and bids fair to win recognition at the approaching meeting of the general assembly.

The plan, as indorsed by Judge Patterson, does not contemplate the probing of any particular department of the system, but of the system as a whole. Sensational or hysterical tendencies will be rejected. The object is not to find fault or make talk, but to disclose the inevitable weaknesses in the present system with a view to their correction. The inspiration of the inquiry would be purely constructive. The same methods would apply to examination into the criminal court procedure. There is no doubt that errors and inefficiency have crept into the latter, and that neither our system of dealing with criminals in court or in the penitentiary have kept pace with modern thought.

Being among the pioneers in the humane and profitable move of placing convicts on the highways Georgia may well lead the states in a sensible revision of her penal system and her court procedure. We believe convicts are handled as judiciously in this as in most other states. But that does not mean the system cannot be substantially improved.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON, The Famous Prose Poet

THE CRADLE ROCKERS.

"I don't see how any thoughtful man can be opposed to woman suffrage," remarked the professor. "The hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world, as the poet says, and such a hand should be trusted in all our human activities."

"I never knew a poet to get anything right," said the low browed man. "I have heard that quotation forty thousand times, and it always made me tired. No cradles are rocked by hand. When a woman rocks a cradle she does it with her foot, and she uses her hands to make gestures with, while she's explaining to a neighbor that the grocer's wife has been flirting shamefully with the cross-eyed dentist, who is a grass widower.

"Last fall my Aunt Sarah came to our house for a visit. She brought her baby along, and the minute I saw that infant I knew he was a trouble breeder. He had been christened Alexander Selkirk Robinson Crusoe, his mother being a great admirer of Defoe, and it stands to reason that no child can be healthy and happy under such a bunch of names. Alexander was a cheap looking baby. He was all shriveled up, and had the most peevish expression on his face I ever saw. But his lungs were right side up with care. Whenever he thought of his string of names he just gathered himself up and howled, and that was pretty often. Some of the neighbors came over and complained to Aunt Julia, saying they'd go to law unless she got a Maxim silencer for that kid. Old Doc Little said he'd rather have a dozen homesick dogs in his back yard than have Alexander Selkirk Robinson Crusoe in his neighborhood.

"I couldn't blame him, professor, for there certainly was something bloodcurdling in that young one's screams. They made a man think of epitaphs and dead men's bones. Well, the only way to keep him quiet was by rocking him, and Aunt Julia sent out and borrowed an old-fashioned cradle, and then she put me to work rocking Alexander. Every spare moment had to be devoted to that task. I felt that I was being imposed upon for I couldn't attend the ball games or indulge in any harmless recreation. I was kept so busy with that cradle. It is true that Aunt Julia and Aunt Sarah took turns now and then, but they looked to me to hold her nozzle agin the bank, as it were.

"This went on day after day, and I began to look upon Alexander Selkirk as a mortal error. I'd keep that cradle humping for hours at a stretch, and Aleck would seem sound asleep, but the minute I let up he got action on those lungs of his and fairly yelled the wall paper loose, and then my two aunts would come, madder than so many wet hens, and call me pet names.

"I was going dippy over it, when I read in the evening paper that a man had an electric motor he'd sell cheap. Next morning I went to see that man and traded him a shotgun for his motor, which I took home. Alexander Selkirk and I had the house all to ourselves the rest of the forenoon, for the aunts had gone to the marts of trade to blow themselves. I always was handy at mechanics, so I connected up that motor with the electric light wires, and then with the cradle, and thought I saw the end of my troubles. Alexander howled for the police and the fire department all the time I was working, but I just let him howl, at the risk of puncturing a lung.

"Finally I had all the connections made, and I turned on the current. I just wish you could have seen that cradle professor. It began rocking beautifully, and a smile of contentment settled upon Alexander's care-worn face. Then it began going faster and faster until it sounded like a buzz saw. I really don't understand why I didn't switch the current off. I seemed to be dazed or fascinated. I watched that cradle whizzing around like a bird is said to be fascinated when looking at a snake. Pretty soon it quit vibrating from side to side, and began making complete revolutions, and then it swung around and upset the stove and broke several chairs, and all the time I could hear Alexander squalling. He couldn't get out a full sized yell to save himself. Just then my aunts came home and as they entered the door the cradle charged them and piled them in a heap.

"That will do," said the professor, sternly. "I don't want to listen to such an atrocious story."

FOR OUR SHEEP'S SAKE!

Editor Constitution: Assent your recent editorial concerning raising sheep in north Georgia, and the high price of meat generally. I had supposed everyone knew why sheep are not raised in Georgia. The reason is that the average Georgian prefers a dog to any old mutton. Of course, the majority of the legislature are in the same bunch—they prefer their dog and their possum and their 'tater.

If not, why don't they pass a law putting sheep (as well as children) on at least equal basis with dogs? With stimulation to this industry at home we can raise sufficient for our own families and let the other fellow have some at home also, saving ourselves the 75 per cent cost of distribution which is now the toll of the express companies.

If the state legislature will provide cash to pay for each and every sheep killed by dogs, "I guarantee to furnish you all the mutton you can eat, at least as low, or lower than the price in any other state. We have here in northeast Georgia—the climate, the grass, the water and the land, for sheep-raising. Also, the dogs.

I. C. WADE.

Cornelia, Ga., June 10, 1913.

Open Spaces in Cities.

(From The Indianapolis News.)

Along with the new keenness over social and economic reform England has developed a number of other virtues in the past score of years. One is an appreciation of the value of open spaces in cities, and one is the increased determination to preserve ancient landmarks. Every few months an article appears in The Times or some other influential newspaper acquainting people with the danger that threatens some historical or long-cherished spot, and usually the money necessary to save the property has been forthcoming.

The World's Mysteries

DID BURR PLOT TO DISMEMBER THE UNION?

Aaron Burr, one of the most picturesque men in America in the early part of the past century, solemnly asserted shortly before his death: "I am not a libertine; I am not a murderer; I am not a traitor. I never broke a promise to a woman in my life. I did not intend to kill Hamilton and did not shoot first. I never got within ten thousand leagues of a wish to break up the United States by a separatist or secessionist movement, though I did hope to establish an empire in Mexico and to become its emperor."

If Burr was telling the truth his actions must have been grossly misunderstood. When he failed to attain military honors in the revolutionary war and withdrew disappointed, he turned to law and politics. He was about to have his ambitions gratified when he tied Thomas Jefferson in the electoral college for president of the United States. But when Alexander Hamilton declared for Jefferson, to vent his hate Burr challenged the popular statesman to a duel and killed him. A wave of popular hatred immediately spread over the country, and Burr's political hopes were doomed.

It was then that he formed the most gigantic plot ever conceived by an American, some of the exact details of which will always remain a mystery. The western portion of the United States was sparsely settled. Louisiana had just been purchased from France, and a great part of its inhabitants were unreconciled. Mexico, including Texas, was still a Spanish province, and the United States entertained no friendly spirit for that nation.

Burr was able to take in the whole situation and to foresee something big for himself in another direction. He got into communication with the large body of soldiers and adventurers who were eager for excitement and to make new conquests. Did Burr plan to combine these malcontents and pioneers into a filibustering army, swoop down upon Texas and Mexico, capture the whole Louisiana tract and induce the western states to leave the union, as to carve out a huge southern and western empire, making New Orleans the headquarters, with himself as ruler? He is charged with having entertained this idea.

It is hard at this day, seeing what a great nation we have become, to understand the early unrest of the young republic. There were many who still longed for a monarchy and believed that the republic was not substantially founded. From documents and testimony it seems certain that Burr succeeded in interesting a portion of the army, and more than one famous statesman in as much of his conspiracy as he dared reveal.

His first effort was to recruit a filibustering army. To prepare a temporary headquarters for them he purchased thousands of acres of land on the Wichita river. He was able to raise a very large sum of money and seemed to be succeeding in obtaining an army sufficient to carry out his project. He further declared—probably without foundation—that an English fleet had agreed to co-operate with him.

The plan was nearly ripe and the first blow was about to be struck when General Wilkinson, who was an accomplice of Burr's, became alarmed and sent secret word of the whole project, as he understood it, to President Jefferson. Quick action was taken by the president to crush the insurrection. Burr was arrested for high treason and was put on trial in May, 1807. He fought the charges, and, aided by Andrew Jackson and some of the best legal talent in America, succeeded in gaining an acquittal. But he was forced to leave America at once, and was forbidden to return.

It was not for many years afterward that he did return, and then in disguise. He was penniless and unwelcomed, the man who not many years before had received an equal number of electoral votes with Thomas Jefferson. His genius enabled him to win a new fortune at law. He added to his wealth by marrying a rich widow, who left him after he had squandered most of her fortune. Hard luck came again, and finally, old, infirm, poor, shunned by his former friends, his family gone, Aaron Burr became an object of charity and died on Staten Island on September 14, 1836.

To what extent Aaron Burr schemed for the disruption of the republic has never been known. He always declared he had only in view the establishment of an empire with himself as ruler upon the Spanish territory in the southwest, but it looks very much as if he expected also to obtain all the western territory of the present United States.

SUNSHINE.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

If you are undecided as to what business to go into—go into the Sunshine business. It pays big profits. You know how physical Sunshine affects you—how it makes your day pleasant and cheerful and puts health, zest and vigor into your system. Sunshine in your Soul—Sunshine in your Heart and Sunshine in your Face is of an infinitely higher order because you can take it into the darkest corners of your day and there will be light.

Distribute, Sunshine.

The Sunshine spirit in you will not only transform your entire day but it will go far to Transform the entire days of everyone that comes within the radius of your Sunshine. You are cheered and inspired every time you pass a man or woman on the street with Sunshine streaming out from their countenance and very attitude. To go into an office where there is Sunshine; to go into a home where there is Sunshine; to meet people and talk with them with Sunshine radiating from them—you cannot possibly come in contact with a finer inspiration.

Distribute Sunshine.

Sunshine is a thing made up within us. It cannot be bought and it cannot help but be in you in great quantities if you eliminate from your thinking and from your working the things that shut off Sunshine—Anger. Regret for things that cannot be Helped, Wrong Viewpoints, Worry, Hatred, Envy, Jealousies. Get these things out of your system—give the Sunshine a chance and your value to yourself and other people will grow and grow.

Go into the Sunshine business.

The Real California Animus.

(From The Southern Ruralist.)

The people responsible for this hostile action do not object to Japanese as such. They are welcomed as laborers, servants and business men. It is only to the Japanese farmer that California objects. He may do anything except own and independently lease farm land for his own use.

There are only some 3,000 Japanese farmers in the state, they occupy an aggregate of only about 13,000 acres of land. The total number of Japanese in California is less than 2 per cent of her population, and the number is steadily decreasing.

The real trouble is that Californians are proverbially poor farmers. They like to be called ranchmen, and pomologists, instead of farmers. The state has become the refuge of men looking for an easy climate and easy time. Foreigners do most of the real work. Swiss and Italians cultivate the vineyards. The Portuguese have their special field. Chinamen work as laborers, but seldom aspire to become farm owners—never citizens.

The Japanese are good farmers, representatives of a race which has cultivated the same land for 2,000 years and maintained its original productivity. With them the land spoilsmen cannot compete. The Japanese aspires to ownership of the despoiled soil he has restored to fertility. His example is an affront, his aspiration an insult. The people of California insist upon their right to continue to rob and deplete their land without Oriental intervention.

What they need is not anti-alien laws, but anti-lazyness inoculation. Not exclusion of Japanese, but inclusion of sense. Not diplomacy, but real farming.

THE BABY'S NURSE.

A Bulletin issued by the Georgia State Board of Health.

Too little thought is given to the selection of the baby's nurse. Some people seem to have the idea that any old sort of a girl will do. They do not stop to find out whether or not there is consumption or some other contagious disease in the house where the nurse comes from, nor do they try to find out if the nurse herself is free of diseases which their baby might easily contract. What about the nurse's moral character? Many a poor baby, no doubt, has become infected with one or more of the so-called social diseases by being nursed by a girl or woman of loose moral habits. Then, too, the important question comes up as to the nurse's intelligence. It may be claimed that it does not require very much sense to be able to nurse a baby. Right there is where a mistake is made. If it is important to have a good intelligent gardener to help you bring your plants and flowers to perfection, how much more important it is to have a good, healthy, intelligent nurse to help you bring your baby to perfection, and start it on the right road with a good constitution and without deformities. Get a nurse that is neat and clean or, for the baby's sake, don't get a nurse at all. If the nurse is dirty and has an odor that nauseates you, and makes you sick when she comes near you, how horrible it must be to the poor baby who on account of its helplessness and inability to protest and get away from this stench, has to stay with it and endure it day in and day out. Tell the nurse how to get rid of this odor, and if she does not do it, get rid of her.

Don't Chew Food for Baby.

Never allow the nurse, or baby's grandmother, or any one else to chew up food and give it to the baby. It may be all right for the old birds to carry food in their mouths and deposit it in the mouths of the young birds, but this does not do in the case of human beings. There is no other way for the birds to feed their young, but there are other ways for human beings to give their young food. This practice, besides being unnecessary, and disgusting to think about, is really dangerous. Besides causing bowel troubles, just think of the danger of your baby contracting other disease in this way. The intention of the nurse, or yourself, or the grandmother or other party may be perfectly good and praiseworthy, but the harmful effects are just as sickening and deadly as though the intention were bad.

Another thing, do you know where the nurse goes with your baby when she takes it out for a walk? How do you know that your defenseless baby is not lying in its carriage neglected, with the sun beating into its eyes, while the nurse is idly gossiping with some one and ignoring the baby's welfare and comfort? How do you know that your baby, that is dependent on you for protection, is not playing on the floor in some negro shanty where dirt and filth are paramount, or maybe baby is being taken up on the bed and being fondled by some unfortunate sick person who is fond of children, but is ignorant of the dangers of giving their disease to your baby?

Watch the Nurse.

After you have employed a nurse and found that she can't be, or won't be, taught how to properly care for your child, discharge her. Don't keep her and try to excuse yourself by saying "she is the best I can get." If you do keep such a nurse don't try to lay the blame on Providence if your baby sickens and dies, or becomes injured for life as the result of having a diseased or careless nurse.

The proper nursing of a baby requires constant thought and attention. It is something more than rocking the baby to sleep, which is not necessary, and it is something more than changing the baby's napkins, which is seldom done as often as is necessary. If you must have a nurse, select her carefully, and then watch her constantly. It is up to you.

WEATHER RECORDS SMASHED TUESDAY

June 10th Was the Coldest 10th in Thirty-Five Years. Stores Dress Windows to Suit the Weather.

Atlanta, always breaking some record, smashed a few marks yesterday with ease, according to Weather Prophet Von Herrmann. To begin with, it was the coldest June day since June 12, 1903, when the thermometer stood at 46 for a few seconds. Monday it reached as low as 52 at 7 a. m.

And, then, not to be outdone by other June days, it was the coldest tenth of June for the past 35 years, and taking it by the average for the day it was the coldest day in June, with the exception of June 1, 1899, when the mercury averaged 54, a tie with Tuesday.

The highest was 56 at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The average temperature for the first ten days of this month is 69.3 degrees, as against 73.6 degrees for the same period last year.

Rainfall Below Average.

Although Atlanta has had rain every day so far this June, the precipitation, 52-100 inches, is far below last year's record of 3 71-100 inches, which was above the average for the first ten days of any June which is 1 31-100 inches. The rainfall Tuesday was only a trace.

Nature's attempt to equalize the temperature of the earth is the reason given by Observer Von Herrmann for the sudden change in temperature. The hot air rising at the equator causes the cold air from the north to rush southward, not regularly, but spasmodically, and sudden changes in temperature such as this are experienced.

Such period as Atlanta is passing through now has not been known since June, 1903, when from the tenth until the thirteenth, weather very similar was felt.

Atlanta Stores Dress Windows.

Atlanta's fashionable shops, not to be outdone by any freak of temperature, dressed their show windows accordingly. One Whitehall shoe merchant installed an electrical contrivance in his window which it kept imitation snow flying all the day, and a well-known haberdasher filled one display window with nice felt hats, and placed his sign in front: "Aren't you tired of that dinky old straw?"

Overcoats, redeemed from "uncles" on Monday, were put to good use, and more than the usual run of raincoats were seen.

According to the weather bureau today will be slightly warmer, and tomorrow a great deal more so. Then the straws will again be in all their glory.

CAMP JOE BROWN, U. C. V., THANKS ITS FRIENDS

A resolution of thanks to the order of Owls and to their newspaper friends in Atlanta for help rendered in making the veterans of Camp Joe Brown, No. 1776, U. C. V., was adopted by a rising vote at the last regular meeting from the reunion at Chattanooga Monday night. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the people of Atlanta have patronized our little enterprise liberally, and whereas the Order of Owls have aided us in many ways, and whereas The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta Journal and the Atlanta Star have been exceedingly kind to us, all of them helping us to make camp of old veterans to their reunion at Chattanooga.

"Therefore, resolved, That we extend to all of them our heartfelt thanks, and that this camp will ever have a warm place in our hearts for them all for the few days that we are spared to live."

DR. GRANT IS READY TO GO BEFORE JURY

It was erroneously reported yesterday that Dr. Horace Grant, who was subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, could not be found. Dr. Grant was in The Constitution office last night and showed his subpoena, which was for the 12th of June, and not the 10th.

"I was at home Tuesday and they could have gotten me all right had they wished. My subpoena read for the 13th, and I will appear then," he said.

Petition in Bankruptcy.

Traffic Suddenly Stopped When Tech Boy Burlesquers Parade Through the City

Traffic was suddenly stopped and stores were deserted when the burlesque pageant players of the Georgia School of Technology took Atlanta by storm at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, parading through the city to the tune of "In My Harem" and other college favorites.

The pageant formed in front of the Tech Y. M. C. A. at the conclusion of the most brilliant class day exercises in the history of the school. Tech's student band, clad as hobo musicians, with patched trousers, loud socks that were not mates and shoes that once had soles, played sweet music which aroused the people in homes on Peachtree and lined the streets with an expectant multitude which seeks the curbstone at the first sound of an approaching band.

Pretty Girls Cheer Them On.

In addition to the idlers who line up for every street parade, and the music lovers who can't resist a band, the streets were packed with pretty girls, the fair admirers of the Tech burlesquers. Some of them rode in automobiles near the procession, which marched down Peachtree avenue, Peachtree and Whitehall streets to the Terminal station. Other fair co-eds cheered the paraders from the street corners, and still others gathered in large groups, waving handkerchiefs at the funmakers as they marched through the resident section of Atlanta.

The graduating class, clad in cap and gown, led the procession, preceded only by the hobo band. Then followed Diogenes, the cynic, clad in nothing but a barrel and part of a bathing suit, holding aloft his red lantern, looking for an honest man. His bare limbs, like those of many ballet dancers and Fiji islanders, were protected from the cold by a special preparation of coco oil, so warm that when spectators shivered in the wind at the sight of the thinly-garbed performer, the paraders danced a merry jig, because their limbs burned so that they could not stand still.

Some Startling Costumes.

In the parade was a blind policeman following closely the heels of a ballet dancer, who wore a smile. Her bleached blond heavy head of hair, her decollette costume, which was slow in starting at the shoulders, and which stopped suddenly above the knees and had a price card attached, aroused the apprehension, even of the policemen who caught sight of "her," but when informed that "she" was a Tech boy, they remonstrated no further, for the city all belonged to Tech during that memorable parade. There were Scotchmen dancing the highland-fling, and sailors doing the horn pipe.

Many "rambling wrecks," with mystic bones, picture cards and other insignias of sundry games of chance promenaded in the crowd of funmakers. Some of them were labeled "never again," others were tagged "dry," and others carried tempting flasks in a secluded trouser pocket.

Clowns and Hindoos, negro minstrels and Dutch comedians all had their place in the line of march. There were red-nosed "boozers," long-haired minstrels and short-haired suffragettes, with the ensign "Vote for Women." A Turkish harem, followed by a lot of English Johnnies and young dudes, with Moslem men, and Oriental women, Chinamen, Mexicans with large sombreros and Zulu natives clad in seaweeds, helped fill the line-up, which extended for two blocks most of the way.

White Hopes Are There.

Of course, Uncle Sam was there, and so was Jack Johnson, and the "white hope." The Dam Family, the whole Dam family, including Papa Dam, Mama Dam, U. B. Dam and the Dam dog, all tagged, were in the parade. There were nine Dam children, though Papa Dam was small and withered looking, and Mama Dam looked fit for a day's washing—and then some.

The red whiskers, even of James Hamilton Lewis, paled into insignificance next to the hirsute adornment of Uncle Hiram, who, carrying his carpet bag in one hand and his roll of money in the other, gazed at the skyscrapers, selecting the one which he would buy.

Koxmen members skidded on roller skates, hanging on to passing automobiles and wagons, and giving demonstrations of fancy skating when they were "shagged" from their "hitch."

Fifteen "convicts," all in stripes, members of the class of 1908, walked in lock-step under the surveillance of the "sheriff," whose rifle was apparently dangerous enough to keep them in line until they reached Five Points. Here they played a joke on the unsuspecting public by breaking loose, and a crowd of eight or ten deep surrounded them, as they stood in the middle of the street, awaiting the return of the parade which had gone up Whitehall street. A great ovation greeted the procession all along the line of march.

W. F. FAIN INDICTED, ACCORDING TO REPORT

Assistant Solicitor Stephens Practically Admits That Jury Has Acted.

Although he would make no positive statement, it was virtually admitted yesterday afternoon by Assistant Solicitor E. A. Stephens tha Police Commissioner W. F. Fain had been indicted by the grand jury for disorderly conduct. There was a division of the vote, but the majority was for indictment, it was said.

Two witnesses called before the grand jury told of rowdyism in a house at 40 East Harris street, which occurred just after the Christmas holidays, and in which the police commissioner was said to be involved. It was said that when call officers arrived that Fain escaped arrest by getting into telephone communication with the police department.

Witnesses Tell Story.

Those witnesses, who both told the same story, were J. A. Skaggs, an agent of the Southern Express company, and Allen Young, a real estate man.

The two said that shortly after the Christmas holidays they complained to the police commission of a fight and general disorder in a house at 40 East Harris street and charged Police Commissioner W. F. Fain with being one of the principals.

They testified that while the disorder was in progress Call Officer W. F. Anderson, of the police department, went to that address, but Commissioner Fain arranged matters by telephoning the police station, thereby causing no arrest to be made.

Assistant Chief E. L. Jett and Police Captain W. M. Mayo were on the desk. With these facts before them, so Witnesses Skaggs and Young told the grand jury, the police commissioners promised that such things would not happen again if they would not make a case against Fain.

Disorder Occurs Again.

The same witnesses testified that in April disorder in a worse form occurred at the same address, with Fain as a principal, a call officer was sent to investigate and twas said that Fain and a badly beaten drunken woman were found together, and again no arrest was made, it was said.

Assistant Chief E. L. Jett and Captain W. M. Mayo, of the police department, who were said to be on the desk each time that Fain was said to be acting in a disorderly manner, were the next witnesses called.

Evidence that the vice probe will be conducted with renewed vigor was indicated by the drawing of a bank bill of indictment against Mrs. N. P. Powell, recently convicted of being proprietor of a disorderly house and sentenced to four months in jail.

A number of witnesses were on hand to testify against Mrs. Powell and it is thought that many other names will come up for indictment by the grand jury before the closing of the session.

Exception was taken to the statement of Police Chief Beavers, who said that he was prevented from closing up the most notorious resort in the city through an injunction of the superior court. The grand jury intends to show that the courts are not interfering with the work of closing up immoral resorts, it is said.

Although neither Foreman L. H. Beck, of the grand jury, nor Solicitor Hugh Dorsey would discuss the meeting, it is generally understood that an exhaustive probe of all alleged vice conditions will be made.

FITZHUGH LEE GRANTED SECOND DIVORCE DECREE

Fitzhugh Lee was granted a second verdict in the superior court yesterday against his wife, Mrs. Carrie Lee, on the grounds of cruel treatment.

He declared that he was extremely temperamental, and that his wife did not understand his nature. After telling the jury of a combat with his wife one night, when he alleges she attempted to kill him, and choked him severely, the above verdict was granted.

WANTS SMOKE LIMIT CUT TO SIX MINUTES

The law regulating the time limit of smoke discharge in Atlanta should be amended, according to Cecil P. Poole, city smoke inspector. He says that the limit ought to be cut in half, that is to say six minutes in every hour.

Inspector Poole made the startling declaration Tuesday, that if all the stacks in Atlanta discharged smoke for full twelve minutes in each hour as allowed by the ordinance, the atmosphere would be unbearable. He says that if a plant makes any progress at all toward smoke abatement it can easily come within the six minute limit.

ENGINE AND CREW GO TUMBLING INTO RIVER

Commerce, Ga., June 10.—(Special.) While attempting to cross a bridge on Grove river today with a traction engine the bridge gave way and the engine and crew went down into the swollen stream. Luther McDonald, the owner of the engine, went down between the engine and fly wheel, but fortunately was not pinned underneath and emerged unhurt.

The Personal Appeal to Advertisers

Did you ever get a bit of advertising literature or read a newspaper advertisement that seemed to "talk right at you?"

A good many shrewd advertisers adopt that style of writing. It is in nearly every instance very convincing; it carries with it the spirit of earnestness, of intense self-belief.

We all like the chatty, personal type of advertising. In some ways such an advertisement is like a good letter—a letter that is intensely human and profoundly interesting in consequence.

One of the largest advertisers in this country makes it a point to talk to the people as familiarly as if he were speaking in presence of a little group of personal friends in his home or club.

Just take a look through the paper and pick out the chatty, personal advertisements, and note how easily and quickly they make you "feel at home."

BOARD OF FIREMASTERS TO PASS ON HOSE BIDS

The board of firemasters will meet Friday to pass on the bids submitted on hose for the fire department. The board met Monday afternoon to canvass the bids which range from 60 cents to $1.10 per foot. Mayor Woodward was present at the opening of the bids, and declared that he was satisfied to once more see the department purchase its hose under competitive bids.

The city comptroller's department called for bids on 1,200 feet, but it is likely that the city will buy 2,000 feet. Mayor Woodward said that one of the bids at eighty cents was on hose of better quality than the city has been using. He would not state whether or not he would urge the board to purchase it.

"All that I want the board to do is to get bids as required by the city charter," Mayor Woodward said. "When the purchases are made that way it makes no difference to me what brand they buy. I want to see the city get the best for the least possible money."

All the bids were referred to a subcommittee to examine and report at the next meeting of the board.

TALLULAH FALLS SUIT CAUSES MUCH INTEREST

Much interest is felt throughout Georgia in the hearing of the motion for a new trial of the Tallulah Falls suit against the Georgia Railway and Power company, which will be heard at Gainesville June 28.

The state will in all probability be represented by Attorney General T. S. Felder and Edgar Watkins, while it is likely that H. H. Dean and Alex C. King will represent the power company. Judge Jones, who presided at the first trial which attracted so much interest, will decide as to the jurisdiction for a new trial.

FIRST SERVICES HELD IN NEW SYNAGOGUE

The first services in the new synagogue, 344 Woodward avenue, were held last night by the congregation Anshe-Sfard, when the opening of the Feast of Weeks was duly observed.

A congregation of about seventy-five people was present, led by Cantor D. Stein. The services were carried out according to the chasidean traditions of the Hebrew faith, which stresses the value of unity in spirit and optimism.

HAWKES GLASSES

RELIABLE GLASSES MODERATE PRICES

Surely everybody knows that a reliable and satisfactory pair of glasses is dependent on the skill and experience of the person making the examination, and that the price is controlled by the lens formulae (kind of lens required) and the style of the frames or mountings. Even though your circumstances are such that the price is of great consideration to you, the correct lenses should be of very first importance. We cannot imagine any better way to offer you our superior optical service (without seeming to boast) than to say we have served the public safely and satisfactorily for fifty years. There is no better recommendation in the world than the word of your friends who say: "I have tried them and my glasses are perfectly satisfactory." As to the price of glasses, we can give you an elaborate, heavy, solid gold frame mounted with its finest lenses, or if you wish, the best lenses in a substantial, plain aluminum frame at a very moderate figure. Above all things, let us caution you—don't risk a pair of cheap glasses. Your eyes are too precious and cheap glasses are the height of false economy. We will take pleasure in talking the matter over with you. We respectfully solicit your patronage and favor—but first ask your friends about us.

THREE FORWARD STEPS. NO BACKWARD STEP WILL BE TAKEN

The man had an unclean spirit.

Fetters and chains he broke.

No man could tame him.

Night and day he raged and cut himself with stones.

When he saw Jesus, he cried:

"What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the Most High God? I adjure thee by God, torment me not."

Left to himself, he would have been hopelessly lost.

A torture to himself—a terror to others until the end he would have remained, had Jesus heeded him.

Against his will, he was cured.

Friday, a girl stood in Court in Atlanta.

She had sinned.

Offered the choice between the effort to reform and prison, she chose prison.

Jane Addams says of another girl:

"Such demoralization is, of course, most valuable to the white slave trader, for when a girl has become thoroughly accustomed to the life and testifies that she is in it of her own free will, she puts herself beyond the protection of the law.

"She belongs to a legally degraded class without redress in courts of justice for personal outrages.

"It is easy to see why it thus becomes PART OF THE BUSINESS to break down a girl's moral nature by all those horrible devices which are constantly used by the owner of a white slave.

"A girl thus rendered more useful to her owner will thereafter fail to touch the chivalry of men or the tenderness of women because good men and women have become convinced of her innate degeneracy, a word we have learned to use with the conviction formerly placed upon original sin.

"The very revolt of society against such girls is used by their owners as a protection to the business."

Reflect!

That woman was not born unclean.

God created her for motherhood.

But man defiled and enslaved her.

You will not approve this.

Moreover, when you once understand the truth—THAT A FALLEN WOMAN IS ONLY A GIRL WITH A MURDERED SOUL—you will sicken at the thought; you will help her; you will join in preventing others from falling into the same wretched trap.

Not all refuse help.

When the houses were closed, a girl, crying, begged to be taken home. Those who carried her there found her mother praying that God would find and bring back her daughter.

But some have been so mangled and marred that they must be protected from themselves and THE MEN WHO PREY UPON THEM.

And society must be protected.

For these—the incorrigibles—the County Commissioners are now preparing a home.

This will answer in Atlanta and Fulton County the question:

"What is to be done with the woman who can not or will not reform?"

She will be schooled under gentle but firm hands, backed by authority of the law, until she learns again the true meaning of womanhood.

She will not be put in the chaingang. She will not be dismissed with a fine. She will be saved from herself and owners.

While she is at large—

While the white slaver is ecouraged to make others like her by the tolerated brothel—

Little can be done in solving the problem of the social evil.

The closing of the segregated district was the first step.

Martha's Home, for those willing to be helped, was the second.

The County Commissioners are now taking the third in preparing the Home for the Incorrigibles.

No backward step will be taken.

Andrews-Rauschenberg.

The wedding of Miss Lina Andrews and Mr. Christian Rauschenberg, Jr., was a beautiful event of last evening, taking place at 9 o'clock at the Inman Park Methodist church. The church was artistically decorated with a wreath of palms and ferns and white hydrangeas, and a beautiful musical program was given by Mr. Charles Sheldon before the entrance of the bridal party.

Mrs. B. F. Glasgow, of Tyrone, Pa., was matron of honor and the brides-maids were Miss Lillian Lupo, Miss Mildred Harris, Miss Annie Rauschenberg and Miss Mazie Rauschenberg. Mr. William Candler was best man and the groomsmen were Mr. Albert Andrews, Mr. Renfro Rauschenberg, Dr. Fred White, Mr. Oscar Rauschenberg, Mr. Richard Wilson, of Macon, and Mr. Ridley Harwell.

The bride was given away by her father, Mr. George W. Andrews, and Rev. A. W. Quillian officiated.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin charmeuse trimmed in princess lace and seed pearls. Her tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms and she carried bride roses and valley lilies.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids all wore white lingerie gowns and carried pink roses.

A large reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews, in Inman Park, followed the church ceremony. Here a decorative scheme of pink and white was carried out in all details. Palms and ferns formed a background for pink bridal draperies, roses and sweet peas. Pink and white roses formed the centerpiece of the bride's table in the dining room. The candle shades were pink and the mints, ices and cakes were pink and white.

Mrs. Andrews, the bride's mother, was gowned in gray charmeuse satin and was assisted in receiving the guests by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christian Rauschenberg.

The bride's book was kept by Miss Lelia Branch and Miss Rula Hancock.

Presiding at the punch bowls were Mrs. Fred White, Mrs. William Candler, Miss Martha Smith and Mrs. O. C. Rauschenberg.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. A. L. Branch, Mrs. Warren White and Mrs. S. C. Dobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Rauschenberg left for a wedding trip and on their return will be at home at 147 Elizabeth street, Inman Park.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Bellows, of Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. D. F. Glasgow, of Tyrone, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Jay Jason, of Brunswick; Mr. Richard Wilson, of Macon, and Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Rauschenberg, of Knoxville.

Closing Exercises.

Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock the closing exercises of the convent of the Immaculate Conception were held in the hall of the academy. A large and enthusiastic audience were present. Miss Mary Curley, Miss Alice Delaney, Miss Nellie Kate Pratt, Miss Gertrude Robinson, Miss Loyola Gammon, Miss Annie Mae Dunlap, Miss Eloise LaMott, Miss Claudelle Rowdan, Miss Frances B. Curry, Miss Alleen Mills, Miss Io Regis Cheeves, Miss Esther Renfroe, Miss Rebecca Cooper, Miss Margaret Norcross, Miss Katherine Webster.

How English Beauties Keep Faces Youthful

Christian Miller, F. C. I., noted English health expert, attributes the early gaining of American women mainly to the "national nervousness." The women of England, she says, can teach us the inestimable lesson of repose.

Another valuable lesson to be learned from the English woman is that she does not go in much for cosmetics, the continual use of which must ruin any complexion. The beauty doctors of King George's realm have the mercolized wax habit, a more wholesome method of keeping the face girlish-looking and healthy. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, rejuvenates the worst complexion. American women most easily acquire the habit, this wax being obtainable at drugstores generally in the United States. It is applied at night and washed off in the morning. One ounce is sufficient to completely renovate a bad complexion. It has a peculiar action in keeping the face free from the particles of dead and devitalized cuticle skin which are constantly appearing.—Woman's Herald.

WOMAN'S STORY MADE PUBLIC

Mrs. Moncrief Didn't Consider It Secret—Thought Friends Should Know—Read Her Statement.

Belton, Texas.—Mrs. Ethel Moncrief, of this place, says: "I suffered with a complaint peculiar to women, and, although I called in the doctors, they failed to do me any good.

Then, I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

From the first dose I could feel results, and, in a short time, I was relieved of all my dreadful suffering.

My friends were surprised to see the results I obtained from the use of Cardui. I just couldn't help telling them. It built up my system wonderfully.

I do not want to be without Cardui in my house, as long as I can obtain it. It is a true relief for womanly troubles. I can't praise it too highly."

In the past half century thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. Moncrief, to tell of the benefit received from the use of Cardui.

Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the merit of this woman's remedy.

Cardui contains pure, harmless, vegetable ingredients, which act in a gentle way on all the weakened womanly organs.

It cannot do you harm, and is almost sure to be the very medicine you need. It's good for young or old.

Please give Cardui a trial.

TWO PICNICS ARE PUT ON SHELF BY ERRATIC WEATHER

Two picnics planned for this week by Atlanta Sunday schools have been postponed on account of the erratic weather, and will be held next week instead—Providence permitting.

They are the joint picnic of the First Christian and the Second Baptist schools set for Tuesday at Grant park, and the picnic of the Central Presbyterian Sunday school, which had been announced for Thursday of this week at Powder Springs, Ga.

The joint celebration at Grant park of the two schools that recently woke up Atlanta with their Sunday school contest will be one of the most interesting events of the summer. It will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon, Tuesday, June 17, and the big picnic dinner, at which fully 3,000 people will sit down together, will be held at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Plans are being completed to make a happy, all-day excursion out of the Presbyterian picnic at Powder Springs. The party will make the trip by train, leaving about 8 o'clock in the morning and returning late in the evening. The tickets already given out will be honored on Thursday week, and further details will be announced next Sunday.

Church and Peace Movement.

The address at the Baptist Ministers' conference on Monday morning by Dr. J. Hall Hall on "The Church and Peace Movement" awakened quite a little interest and a very urgent demand for its publication.

Dr. Hall reviewed the attitude of the early church, the attitude of the church during the ages of christendom to the present day and its present attitude. He showed how the modern war spirit is contrary to the Christ spirit, the one is national or racial and destructive, the other seeks a world-wide dominion founded on righteousness and good will to all men.

FRANK RHODES FAVORS NEW COUNTY CLAIMS

Winder's Appeal to Legislature Is Just One, Declares the Representative.

Representative Frank Rhodes, of Clarke county, is of the opinion, as the result of having talked to a number of other members of the legislature, that the general assembly this year will deal with the new county problems which come before it purely on a basis of merit. In other words, he takes the view that new county creation will be put upon a purely business basis, and that politics will be largely eliminated from the movement.

"Upon this basis," said Mr. Rhodes, "Winder, which is one of the very best cities in Georgia and which is now most unfortunately situated, is certainly entitled to a new county. You can sit on a big rock in the middle of the main street in Winder and put one leg in Gwinnett, the other leg in Jackson and lean back a little bit until your head is in Walton county.

"Aside from the other grounds upon which Winder's claim to a new county must appeal to justice and reason, it is easy to see how this situation is productive of numerous complications.

Speaking for the people of Metter, located in the extreme western end of Bulloch county, Secretary F. H. Sills, of the Candler county movement, said he hoped the legislature would take a purely business proposition of new county creation this year.

"It is purely a matter of business with us," said Mr. Sills, "and viewed in that light, we have nothing whatever to fear. Through nine years of effort on our part, the older members of the legislature have learned pretty well all the difficulties under which we labor and our need for a new county. We are standing upon our own merits and the 12,000 people in the territory involved in the Candler county movement, are practically a solid unit for its creation."

ATLANTA BOYS PLAN BIG SUMMER OUTING AT CAMP SAPPHIRE

The latter will be one of twenty-five "councillors," who will have charge of the boys at camp, among the others being Coach I. P. At the monthly meeting of the Atlanta association of Sunday school superintendents, held last night at the Wesley Memorial church, Dr. Marion McH. Hull, who is superintendent of the North Avenue Presbyterian Sunday school, was elected president of the body for the ensuing year.

John S. Spalding, superintendent of the Second Baptist, was elected secretary. The most important result of the meeting was the decision of the association not to adjour nfor the summer months, which has been the custom during past years, but to continue the meetings regularly and to make every effort to stimulate the Sunday school work during the trying summer months.

The retiring president, George Hinman, addressed the meeting, and short talks were also made by Charles S. Spalding, J. W. Awtry, Dr. Hull and L. V. LeCraw, the latter explaining the details of the new publicity arrangement for exchanging reports every week through the columns of the press. Great interest was expressed in the plan, and every man present avowed his endorsement and co-operation. The next meeting of the association will be held July 15 at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

FAKE CATHOLIC PRIEST SENT TO U. S. PRISON

Thomas Kirby, alias Brother James, who is charged with asking charitably-inclined people for funds with which to build churches to advance the Catholic faith, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Newman, of the United States court, to serve three years in the federal prison near Atlanta and to pay a fine of $1,000 for misuse of the mails. There were two similar indictments against Kirby and in each he entered a plea of guilty when arraigned. In passing sentence Judge Newman gave the prisoner eighteen months' imprisonment and $500 fine in each case, making the total imprisonment three years with an aggregate fine of $1,000.

ASHLEY WILL PUSH SEGREGATION LAW

Sale of a Cottage on Houston Street to Negro Family Stirs People in Neighborhood.

When the police committee of council meets Wednesday afternoon, Councilman Claude L. Ashley, of the fourth ward, will head a delegation of citizens and property owners to urge the adoption of the ordinance to segregate the negroes in Atlanta.

The sale of a cottage in Houston street between North Jackson and North Boulevard, which was formerly owned and occupied by whites, to a negro family now moving in, has stirred the white residents of the neighborhood. Councilman Ashley said Tuesday that conditions were becoming worse in the fourth ward, and unless something is done to stop the invasion of negroes in white neighborhoods property values will deteriorate and white families be forced from their homes.

"I feel certain that the ordinance will be adopted by council when it reaches there," said Councilman Ashley, Tuesday. I am informed by some of the leading constitutional lawyers in Atlanta that the ordinance will stand a test in the supreme court. It has been adopted in Richmond, Va., and Baltimore, Md., and is working out admirably."

The Crackers and Barons were scheduled to play two games Tuesday, but the first dragged out twelve innings, the Crackers finally winning 6 to 4.

Took Twelve Innings, But We Won

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

Call Both Games.

CALLER KING will call both games again today at his viaduct baseball parlor. The games will be seven inning affairs, and the first contest will start promptly at 2:15 o'clock, Atlanta time.

Breaks Slump.

WALLOP SMITH has broken his hitting slump. The Crackers' big third sacker cracked loose three bingles Tuesday and had a fourth chalked up, when he smashed loose a single in the first inning of the second game, driving in a run, when the darkness ended the fray.

Easy So Far.

THE BARONS have been easy pickings for the Crackers so far. The teams have tied up in nine games. The Crackers have walked away with seven of them, while the Barons have only been able to cop two. Foxen has been beaten twice by the Crackers, while he has won one game. Prough won the other game from the Crackers.

A Big Surprise.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT from Chattanooga last night that Forrest More, the Lookouts' big right-hander, had been released to the Nashville Volunteers will no doubt cause considerable surprise locally, as More has always been considered one of the best pitchers in the Southern league. In the opinion of many he is the best right-hander in the league and his work with Nashville will show it.

Have Confidence.

YALE has a baseball team this season that never quits. They fight until the last man is out. This is evidenced by their record this season. Practically every game that the Bulldogs have played this season has been an extra inning affair, and in every one of them the Yale Ells have been returned victorious. Of course, they have gotten most of the breaks, but a confident winning team always does. They make their own luck.

Is An Umpire.

PAT PLAHERTY, the quick-return artist, who pitched and played right field for the Crackers a couple of years ago, is now an umpire. Pat has accepted an Indicator handler's position with the Federal league.

Awakened Interest.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the proposed track and field meet to be held at Piedmont park the morning of July 4 has awakened interest in athletics throughout the city. Six athletes have signified their intention of competing in the events, and have already filed their entries. There are numbers and numbers of good athletes in Atlanta and meets of this kind will do more toward promoting interest than any other thing.

A Correction.

THE TENNIS championship of the Carolinas will not be played until next Monday. An announcement was made in Monday's Constitution that the meet would be placed on that date, but this announcement was a week previous.

Georgia Title.

ATLANTA gets the Georgia State Tennis championship for the first time in its history. Usually it is played at the Lanier Tennis club in Macon, or the Country club, in Augusta, but this year the Piedmont Driving club has landed the event. It will start next week and run throughout the week. Many entries have already been made.

Congratulations.

RAY BOYD, one of the star twirlers of the Birmingham pennant-winners, has been returned to the team fit and sound, ready for battle, and he may twirl the game at Birmingham today. Boyd has been out of harness all season, due to an injury to his pitching arm. The Birmingham fans contributed a purse of $100 to send him to Bonesetter Reese for repairs. The famous specialist has returned him cured. Congratulations are due Birmingham fandom for their loyalty.

Another Goes.

JIMMY DYGERT, the former Pelican, is another Cracker who has found the pace too swift for him in this country, so fast has he been sliding back. Dygert was just been released by the Chattanooga Lookouts. Grimes, the sensational youngster, who has won eleven straight games for Ottumwa, in the Central association, takes his place.

Not Like Jim.

MANAGERIAL cares rest heavily on the brow of James Claudius Rex, former star first baseman. Every Atlanta fan remembers how peaceful Jim used to be when he played the initial cushion for the locals, but he is just the opposite as manager of the Columbus Sally league club. Jim fights all the time. He never lets them put anything over on him without a kick. But it has brought a call down from Nick Cvrish, president of the league. James Claudius has been warned, that another repetition of his tactics will cause him to be suspended for the season.

Run Him Out.

JACK, the rainmaker, is getting his good and plenty. Whenever he walks down the streets these days Atlantans blame him and the motordrome for the present cold, rainy spell. Unless it clears up pretty shortly, even his motorcycle riders have voted in favor of shipping him out of town.

Wallop Smith Poles Two-Ply Smash With Bases Reeling; Crackers Cop in the Twelfth

MUSSER AND PRICE WILL TWIRL TODAY'S GAMES.

Birmingham, Ala., June 10.—(Special.)—Musser, for Atlanta, and Hardgrove, for Birmingham, will be the hurlers in the first game of the double header tomorrow between the Crackers and the Barons, Price, for Atlanta, and Prough, for Birmingham, in the second. The first game will start promptly at 2:15 o'clock. They will be seven innings by agreement.

By Hugh W. Roberts.

Birmingham, Ala., June 10.—(Special.)—Checked runless for five innings, the Crackers rallied in the twelfth session and triumphed over Barons 6 to 4.

Twirling in fine fettle, Southpaw Foxen recovered from a spell of wildness in the opening rounds and held the visitors with ease until the fateful session, when Wally Smith's slashing drive sent Welchonce and Alpermann across the platter.

Twirler Jim Brady was driven from the firing line in the sixth round, when a fusilade of safeties poured four runners across the rubber and deadlocked the struggle.

Following the wind up of the overtime battle, the two clubs paraded to the pennant staff in center field and hoisted the choice bunting of 1912 to the summit.

An attempt was made to contest the second schedule affray, but darkness checked the battle in the second inning with the count one and one.

The opening was contested warmly after the sixth round, when Brady's twisters were dented to the four winds for as many tallies, for neither aggregation was able to negotiate a marker off the delivery of Dent and Foxen.

Marvelous catches by large William McGilvray of stray fouls along the first line featured the Barons' defense, while Bisland effected several pretty stops at short.

Crackers Score First.

The Crackers assumed an early lead, which was increased in the second and fourth by a trio of markers. With Long out in the initial round Welchonce slashed a double to right. Flashing the bit and run Welchonce gained a material lead off second and completed the circuit, when Alpermann slapped the pellet past third.

Disposing of the Barons in the first, the peppery Crackers added two to the string when Foxen grew wild. Smith drew a pass to first. Bisland unforked a luscious wallop to right, but Messenger checked Smith at second. Agler rolled a sacrifice down the third line, which congested the sacks, when McDonald watched it roll raft, expecting a foul.

A misplaced slant tapped Dunn in the ribs and forced Smith across the rubber. Brady retired on three vicious swings, but Long watched four slants pass by and Afforded Bisland transportation home. Welchonce grounded to Ellam, who smothered Agler at the plate, Whitey Alpermann popped to Pidgeon, retiring the side.

While Brady mowed the Barons down during the five sessions, Foxen grew stronger and held the Crackers scoreless in the sixth.

With a handicap of four runs chalked against them, the champions rallied and solved Foxen for a brace of runs.

Barons Tie It.

Marcan opened operations when he bunted and by a marvelous slide reached first in safety. Messenger slammed a single to center, sending the fleet Marcan to the third cushion. Venturing to second on a lead on a hit and run Messenger reached third on McDonald's Texas leaguer past first, while Lil completed the circuit.

Kniseley connected with one of Brady's slants and sent it to center for a double, when the fleet Pinchhitter beat over Welchonce's head, and Peppery Robert marched the third round. Dunn grew foxey and attempted to pick Kniseley off the keystone, but the pig was erring and the center gardener made third. McBride holstered a long fly to center and Kniseley made the pilgrimage tieing the count.

McGilvray slapped the pellet to center safely, and Brady was yanked from the slab. Dent, a huge right-hander, stepped the fusilade of willow wielding when he forced Mayer to ground to Bisland, who sent McGilvray at second and the receiver was caught attempting a theft.

Pitching nicely during the following rounds neither crew was able to break the deadlock until the battle had progressed into extra innings. Dent placed a fierce liner near third which McDonald knocked down but failed to capture. Long advanced the tower-ing twirler, while Welchonce bingled to center and sent Dent to third. Alpermann grounded to Ellam, who nailed the twirler at the plate on a beautiful return.

Wallop Does It.

Rohe was brought down from the coaching line and substituted for Bailey at the plate. Keen observation of Foxen's offerings gave him a pass to first. Wally Smith hit a fast liner to center, scoring Welchonce and Alpermann and winning the battle for Atlanta. Dent was an enigma to the Barons in the latter half of the twelfth, and the contest closed.

Soon the victorious Barons of 1912 assembled at the plate and formed an unbroken line with the visiting aggregation, Manning to the flagstaff, in center field, the bunting was raised from the ground amid the cheers of whooping patriotism and triumphant Barons. The Atlanta players gave the Barons a rousing ovation.

With the shades of night falling, the artists attempted to stage the second game as scheduled, but after the close of the second inning with one run against Thompson and Musser the fight was called off. Both pitchers were tapped lively.

ELLIOTT DENT.

He relieved Brady in the sixth inning Tuesday, after the Barons had driven him to cover, with five hits and four runs, tying up the game, and held the Barons helpless, while his teammates batted out a victory. Dent pitched six and two-thirds innings and in that time the Barons were only able to get to him for three bingles. It was also his hit that started the scoring festivities in the twelfth inning, when the Crackers broke up the pastime.

UNCLE TOM M'CARY COMING TO BOUTS

Los Angeles Promoter to Look Over Savage and White as Tournament Possibilities in Near Future.

Uncle Tom McCary, the Los Angeles promoter, has swirled the buckers of the Savage-White bout here Friday night, that he is on his way east and that if possible he will be here to look over the two men.

McCary's specialty is promoting boxing tournaments. He has put through a number of them. Right now he sees the possibilities of a great, big, smashing white home tournament.

Sailor White is very likely to give Savage a tougher argument than even Flynn could have been able to. White is a larger, stronger man than Flynn and what he lacks in science he more than makes up in punch.

White has the wide works to gain out of the bout Friday night at the Auditorium-Armory and he will go after Savage like a flash.

He doesn't know any other method, anyhow, but this time he has much more at stake. A win over the Los Angeles tournament would mean rich money and a chance of battling through to the heavy championship.

Like all top-notch boxing celebrities, both Sailor White and Jim savage left New York a day later than they expected one of them is due today, another tomorrow. But they will both be here in good time and in good condition. Sailor White's manager wires here that he has been training hard and that he is very fit for the coming bout.

Jim Savage will have a heavy job on his hands when he tackles Sailor. He looked so good when he trimmed Al Kubiak here that local fans consider him a wonder. And he is. Anyway, his record has not been seen in the heavyweight division since Jim Corbett's day. He is just as good a white boxer as there is in the ring today.

Meyer Prinz and Spider Britt are putting in good licks in training for their bout Friday night. These boys don't think a lot of each other. That means not only that they hate each other, but that they have no high regard for the fighting ability of the other. Maybe that is why they scrap so furiously whenever they meet.

MOTORCYCLE RACES POSTPONED AGAIN

No Definite Date Is Set Owing to Rain and Cold Weather.

"Postponed on account of the cold." This is the sign that was hung out in front of the Motordrome Tuesday. Can you imagine it? What month did you say it was? —June?—he-r-r-r-r-.

No definite date has been set for the running of the races which have been postponed two consecutive nights hand running now. It is left strictly up to the weather man, and until he says that the cold and wet spell is broken, no attempt will be made to set a date. But June 17 is a tentative date.

In this Jack Prince is wise. However, if Jack would take a trip to Birmingham or Nashville, where he is building tracks similar to the one here, he might take the rain away with him.

America's "Big Four" Proves Too Strong for Challengers; First Game Is Won 5½ to 3

Meadow Brook Club, Long Island, June 10.—Outriding and outplaying the English polo challengers, the American cup defending team today won the opening game of the sixth international match by a score of 5½-2 goals to 3.

The English players did not show the vaunted team play which had been credited to them before the game, nor did their ponies outclass the American mounts. In fact the reverse was quite the case and in almost every run down field the American players either held their own or outrode their competitors in the race for the ball.

The combination work of the American four, with Larry Waterbury at number 1, J. M. Waterbury, Jr., and L. E. Stoddard at number 2, Captain H. P. Whitney at number 3 and Devereux Milburn at back, was superb.

The challenging team, consisting of Captain L. St. George Cheape at number 1, Captain A. Noel Edwards at number 2, Captain R. G. Ritson at number 3 and Captain Vivian Lockett at best, Captain Ritson scored with a lofting shot which the Americans were unable to reach and Captain Cheape followed with a 75-yard stroke which just enough momentum to carry it through the goal posts.

The succeeding session proved disastrous for the defenders, for "Monte" Waterbury was hit on the hand by an opponent's mallet and his finger broken in two places. He will not be able to play in Saturday's game.

Open riding and individual play marked the seventh period, in which no goal was scored.

The American team, however, lost half a point because of a sharp crossing by Milburn. In the final period the English kept the ball in the Americans territory for several minutes, but Stoddard finally cleared it and in a run down field paved the way for Larry Waterbury to score the final goal of the game.

"Big Four" Rushes.

Hardly had the game begun before it was seen that the wagering odds of 8 to 3 on the English were not warranted, for the "big four" carried the play into the English end of the field and kept the cavalry officers busy defending their goal.

The drives of the Americans were made with excellent direction and length and they never appeared to have difficulty in hooking the ball out of scrimmage. The Englishmen were apparently stunned by the fierceness of the cup defenders' attack and failed to hold together in team work. The three goals scored in the first period went to the United States and it was not until the second period that the English four got going.

Ritson and Cheape cut lose with some remarkable long drives and the invaders began to team up in a fashion that proved threatening. The work of Captain Lockett at back was remarkable in view of the attack piled at him. Larry Waterbury was playing a rushing game and his encounters with Edwards and Cheape were frequent and and thrilling. Finally he was penalized for riding across Cheape, who had just secured England's first goal with a fine shot from a hard angle. Larry Waterbury scored the American goal in this period.

Challengers' Grease.

The defending four rushed the English early in the third period, but could not penetrate the challengers' defense. The fourth saw the Americans missing several easy chances to score and Captain Cheape also failed from a clear field. The only goal of the period was scored by Larry Waterbury, which he partly nullified by a foul in crossing Captain Ritson.

The fifth period saw the English at their best, Captain Ritson scored with a lofting shot which the Americans were unable to reach and Captain Cheape followed with a 75-yard stroke which just enough momentum to carry it through the goal posts.

The succeeding session proved disastrous for the defenders, for "Monte" Waterbury was hit on the hand by an opponent's mallet and his finger broken in two places. He will not be able to play in Saturday's game.

Open riding and individual play marked the seventh period, in which no goal was scored.

The American team, however, lost half a point because of a sharp crossing by Milburn. In the final period the English kept the ball in the Americans territory for several minutes, but Stoddard finally cleared it and in a run down field paved the way for Larry Waterbury to score the final goal of the game.

FOLGER AND ARCHBOLD CONTROL MAGNOLIA CO.

Officials of Standard Oil Company Own 10,798 Shares Each Out of 24,500.

Corsicana, Texas, June 10.—An effort to secure an admission from E. R. Brown, vice president and general manager of the Magnolia Petroleum company, of Corsicana, that John D. Archbold and H. C. Folger, Jr., own practically ninety per cent of the stock of the Magnolia, as officials of the Standard Oil company, and not as individuals, and that the Magnolia is the only company in Texas through which the Standard Oil company operates, was made this afternoon just before adjournment of the state of Texas' ninety-nine million dollar penalty and ouster suit.

The ownership of the stock in the Magnolia company by the Standard Oil officials has been admitted throughout, but Mr. Brown replied emphatically that Mr. Archbold and Mr. Folger held the stock as an individual investment. He denied that the Magnolia Petroleum company is a Standard Oil property and asserted that neither the Standard of New York nor the Standard of New Jersey dictates its business affairs.

It was shown that of the 24,500 shares of Magnolia stock Folger and Archbold own 10,798 shares each.

"That's a pretty large part of it, isn't it?" asked Attorney General G. A. Sweeton.

"Yes, but it isn't all of it. I own some of it myself," Brown replied. "All of Magnolia is for sale now, but I don't want to have the state of Texas take it away from me."

"You know, don't you," the attorney asked, "that Archbold and Folger owning all this stock in the Magnolia company, they would not put another company in the field to compete with themselves?"

"I don't know anything about Mr. Archbold's and Mr. Folger's personal business," replied the witness.

"During the heated colloquy which followed the attorney referred to the "oil trust" and "the Standard Oil company."

Which Standard Oil company do you mean?" asked Brown.

"There is but one oil co."

"The supreme court of the United states has said that there is no oil trust now," retorted the witness.

J., June 10.—Exercises in connection with Princeton commencement were brought to a close here today with the one hundred and sixty-sixth annual graduation ceremonies in Alexander Hall, at which 255 members of the graduating class received their initial degrees. President Hibben announced that Mrs. Russell Sage had promised to give $100,000 for a new university dining hall, provided the university raised $400,000 for the same purpose.

During the year President Hibben stated about $600,000 had been received for endowments, and about $212,000 for current expenses.

HOME RULE FOR IRISH PASSES SECOND TIME

Vote Is 368 to 270, But Nationalists Fear Government Cannot Last for Final Passage.

London, June 10.—The house of commons tonight passed the second reading of the home rule for Ireland bill without division, an amendment by Mr. Balfour for the rejection of the measure having been previously defeated by a vote of 368 to 270. The announcement of the figures was received with cheering by liberals and nationalists.

The debate was marked by fiery declarations by the opposition speakers who predicted the imposition of home rule would result in civil war in Ireland. Sir Edward Carson, the Irish unionists leader, said:

"For my part I will continue to support the Ulster men and will take full responsibility for their resistance. You may seize their arms or send troops, but you will not settle the Irish question. You think that you are crowing about peace when there is no peace and you will fail in your object."

Lord Charles Beresford declared "If the government sends troops to Ireland I shall offer my services, poor as they may be, and help my fellow countrymen."

John E. Redmond, the Irish nationalist leader, declared that Sir Edward Carson had taken upon himself a grave responsibility and did not represent Ulster's opinion. The nationalists were willing to make any concessions.

"But," added Mr. Redmon, "twenty-four counties will not allow themselves to be permanently cut in four."

Andrew Bonar Law, opposition leader, said that if there were a bargain "All of Magnolia" is for Ireland. I don't want to have the state of Texas take it away from me."

"You know, don't you," the attorney asked, "that Archbold and Folger owning all this stock in the Magnolia company, they would not put another company in the field to compete with themselves?"

"I don't know anything about Mr. Archbold's and Mr. Folger's personal business," replied the witness.

"During the heated colloquy which followed the attorney referred to the "oil trust" and "the Standard Oil company."

Which Standard Oil company do you mean?" asked Brown.

"There is but one oil co."

"The supreme court of the United states has said that there is no oil trust now," retorted the witness.

Philadelphia, June 10.—"Philadelphia Jack O'Brien," pugilist and prize fight promoter, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States court here today. He places his liabilities at $191,634, and his assets at $10,177. Among the creditors is A. J. # RITCHIE-RIVERS BOUT NOW CERTAIN

San Francisco, June 10.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion pugilist, and Ad Wolgast, of Lorain, Ohio, formally signed articles today for a 20-round championship contest in this city on the afternoon of July 4. The men agreed to weigh 124 pounds ringside.

JIMMY FOX WHIPPED BY JOHNNY KILBANE

Cleveland, Ohio, June 10.—Johnny Kilbane, of Cleveland, featherweight champion, defeated Jimmy Fox, of this city, today in the sixth round of their scheduled ten-round bout. Fox's seconds threw a sponge in the ring when their man was on the verge of a knockout.

J. C. ASKEW DISCHARGED.

During the course of his plea for exoneration of his client, Attorney John L. Sehon, of Cook-Brown lawyers, declared before the board of police commissioners last night that a man who had served for a long time on a police force is almost totally unfitted for any other kind of occupation.

He was pleading for J. C. Askew, a patrolman who was arraigned before the board on a charge of drunkenness. Askew was suspended some time ago for arresting a man who had been required for directions to another part of the city. He was summarily discharged last night after the plea that should he be had taken at the advice of his family physician had placed him in a semi-stupor.

The city now occupies the most tranquil of the present board's history. The entire commission responsible for the police force only of late Mayor Woodward, who has been a conspicuous figure in the board's meetings during his administration was not in attendance.

MRS. HUDSON IS GIVEN FINAL DIVORCE DECREE

Mrs Willie Madson was yesterday given her second decree of divorce from Lynn W. Hudson on the grounds of cruel treatment and now has the right to remarry. Under this privilege is denied her husband, Colonel Thomas B. Felder acted as her attorney.

Mrs. Hudson has announced that she will go to New York next month to make arrangements there to go on the vaudeville stage.

FORMER ATLANTA BOY HELPS RESCUE BODIES

John Francis Hoffman, 12-year-old son of Mrs. Theresa Grant Hoffman, of Orlando, Fla., formerly of Atlanta, was instrumental in the recovery of the bodies of two boys drowned last week in Lake Lucerne.

He was the first to reach his playmates, and located them for the rescuing party, but they could not be revived.

LIGHTNING STROKE COST GEORGIA $1,500

Athens, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The Agricultural college here suffered a loss of about $1,500, partially covered by insurance, when lightning struck and set fire to the horticultural barn. The building and a lot of forage were burned; sixty head of Hereford cattle were saved and by good work the nearby buildings were also saved.

200 FEDERALS DIE OVER REBEL MINE

Many More Are Wounded When Troop Train Is Dynamited by the Insurgents Above Guayma.

Nogales, Ariz., June 10.—By the dynamiting of a troop train above Guaymas yesterday, 200 federal soldiers are estimated killed and many more wounded. The track had been mined by insurgents.

Didier Masson, the aviator, is reported to have repaired his aeroplane and again will attempt to drop bombs on the federal forces. An aeroplane manufactured in Douglas, Ariz., is known to have crossed last night into Mexico and was taken to Naco, Sonora.

200 Troops in Mutiny.

Mexico City, June 10.—Two hundred irregulars who were recently recruited, mutined today in the Peralvillo barracks, in a populous section of the city, when they learned that they were to be sent into the field. They cheered for Carranza, the rebel leader and were preparing to take chances of gaining a following in the streets against the government when they found themselves looking into the guns of the men of Twenty-ninth, the same regiment which occupied the palace when Francisco Madero was captured.

This regiment had been rushed across the city to quell the mutiny and the irregulars surrendered without fight. Carranza's main army was decisively defeated at Pena Blanca, in Boeatoche, in the state of Coahuila, just south of Monclova, today, according to the war department. The fighting lasted seven hours and the government announces 200 rebels were killed.

GREAT POWERS HOLDING DOGS OF WAR IN LEASH

London, June 10.—The great powers are exerting every effort to prevent the Balkan states from flying at each others throats, and, reports from Vienna indicate, with some success. Russia and Germany particularly are busy counselling peace and moderation, and the French government is supporting them, and, as the principal creditor, is giving both Servia and Bulgaria clear warning that in event of war no financial assistance will be forthcoming either before or after hostilities.

Since Servia has definitely declared she will avoid all provocations toward Bulgaria, even should the latter refuse revision of the treaty of alliance, and will wait before proclaiming annexation of the occupied territories, and since Bulgaria has also expressed readiness to do everything possible to maintain peace, it is still hoped that war may be averted.

The Neu Freie Presse learns that Dr. Danoff shortly will form a new cabinet at Sofia. No official reason for the new delaying exist, as the Bulgarian army is ready for action on the Servian and Macedonian frontiers.

A Buchanest dispatch to The Daily Telegraph says that if war occurs, Roumania will mobilize her army, but at present has no understanding with any of the allies.

MISS BEHRE WEDDED BY SOCIALISTIC CEREMONY

Cambridge, Mass., June 10.—The marriage of Edna Behre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Behre, formerly of Atlanta, now of New Orleans, to Kenneth McGowan, of Boston, assistant dramatic editor of The Boston Transcript, was a distinct innovation in matrimonial circles.

The young couple were joined under a socialistic ceremony behind locked doors by Justice of the Peace James Frazey in his office in Boston late yesterday afternoon. Except for the one witness required by law, who was a stranger to the contracting parties, all attendants were dispensed with. In the civil contract the couple agreed upon a "comradeship" in which equal rights in home and business which the wedded life will be conducted.

Miss Behre is a Radcliffe senior and has just won a Radcliffe award for the thesis on a novel. She is the granddaughter of Dr. Theodore Schumann, a pioneer druggist of Atlanta. Mr. McGowan is a Harvard graduate and while in college was president of the University of Socialism club. He was a roommate of Theodore S. Behre at Harvard and thus became acquainted with his chum's sister.

PLOT AGAINST HUERTA REGIME DISCOVERED

Dr. Rafael Cepeda, Former Governor, and Four Other Office-Holders Are Arrested.

Mexico City, June 10.—As the result of the discovery of a plot to incite rebellion in the capitol, the police last night arrested Dr. Rafael Cepeda, former governor of San Luis Potosi, and four men of less political prominence. A number of army officers of minor rank are said to be involved in the plot against he Huerta government.

More than 250 members of the federal garrison which was unsuccessful in the defense of Zacatecas against a superior rebel force several weeks ago, were either killed or taken prisoners, according to survivors who today straggled into Aguascalientes. Telegraphic communication between the capital and Zacatecas has been suspended for more than a month and today's news was the first direct confirmation the government had received of the reported capture of the city by the rebels.

Only twenty men of the Zacatecas garrison of three hundred escaped, according to the statement of these survivors, which was telegraphed to the war department from Aguascalientes. The attacking force, they stated, numbered about nine hundred. The federals resisted until fighting in the street had resulted in the killing of many non-combatants.

The successful rebels forced loans and looted some of the business houses of the city. One of the wealthiest residents of Zacatecas was executed because he refused to contribute 20,000 pesos to the revolutionists. The governor was made a prisoner. No mention was made of any foreigners being injured.

Four cannon and a few machine guns were captured by the rebels but the refugees stated that practically all of the ammunition not used in the defense of the garrison was exploded before the federals surrendered.

According to advices received by the war department, a rebel army is moving on Aguascalientes, where the garrison is not large and the situation is complicated by the presence of many idle workmen who are expected to join the rebel ranks.

GRIDIRON CLUB ELECTS ATLANTA BOY MEMBER

Athens, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—At the last meeting of the year the exclusive gridiron club at the university took in the following new men:

George Harrison, of Atlanta; George Brett, of Augusta; John Wade, of Marshallville; Sam Cann, of Savannah; Rucker Ginn, of Royston; Timon Bowden and H. D. Russell, of McDonough; Fred Jordon, of Madison; Aaron Bernd, of Macon, and Robert McWhorter, of Athens.

COMMISSION ORDERED TO PROBE FRISCO LINE

Purchase of Chicago and Eastern Illinois Among Subjects to Be Investigated.

Washington, June 10.—Affairs of the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, now in receivers' hands, were the subject of attack in both houses of congress today. The senate, through the passage of the Kenyon resolution, called on the interstate commerce commission to investigate the affairs of th road and furnish complete information as to its relations with the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road and as to the extent and the present ownership of its bonds and other securities.

A demand for a special investigation by a committee of congress was made in the house by Representative Hinebaugh, of Illinois, in a resolution asking for a thorough probe of the road's operations. The Hinebaugh resolution would direct the commission to recommend a law to govern the reorganization of railroads generally.

During consideration of the Kenyon resolution Senator Newlands said members of the interstate commerce commission would welcome the opportunity to go into the affairs of the bankrupt road.

"I hope the interstate commerce commission will take up the great question of the control of the issuing of securities and the supervision of holding companies, and will recommend a law that will establish proper restraints," he said.

Senator Newlands declared there had been "great laxity" regarding the capitalization and issuance of stocks and bonds of railroads as evidenced by the fact that the St. Louis and San Francisco system had obligations of nearly $75,000 per mile.

WILL PETITION FUNDS FOR NEW DORMITORY

Valdosta, Ga., June 10.—(Special.) The next legislature, which meets on June 25, will be urged to make an appropriation for the erection of another dormitory at the South Georgia State Normal college in this city. A resolution requesting the legislature to make further provision for the college was passed at the last meeting of the local board of trustees, who refer to the fact that the college is now cramped for dormitory room and bids fair to be hampered before a new building can be erected.

Practically all of the present building has been taken up for class rooms and the reports which come to President R. H. Powell indicate that the institution will be limited to overflowing at the fall term.

THE ADVENTURES OF DOTTO, THE WANT AD SCOUT—Taking Care of Hiram

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

In view of the fact that upon the local financial conditions depends to a large extent the amount of business transacted by the real estate men, the remarkable strength shown by the statements of the six national banks in Atlanta at the close of business June 4 will be found an interesting and encouraging item.

Perhaps the best omen in the report is the splendid manner in which deposits are holding up during what is usually considered the dullest season of the year. Deposits show practically no change at all. Surplus shows a satisfactory increase. Loans did not increase to any appreciable extent.

The following are the principal items in the statement:

| | April 4. | June 4. |
|---|---|---|
| Loans | $25,516,416 | $25,779,337 |
| Surplus | 5,027,058 | 5,157,567 |

TO TEACH ATLANTA SELF-KNOWLEDGE

Purpose of Social Survey Explained by Zenas L. Potter, Russell Sage Foundation Expert.

The experts in social survey from the Russell Sage Federation in New York, who arrived in this city Monday, spent several hours again yesterday in conference with the committee on social survey of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, outlining their work of investigating along the line of social survey here.

They are Shirley M. Harrison, director of the department of social survey and exhibits for the Russell Sage Foundation; Zenas L. Potter and Frans Schneider, Jr., department sanitarian. Each of these gentlemen is an expert in the work of social survey with several years' experience before coming to the Russell Sage Foundation.

Mr. Potter Talks.

To give the people of Atlanta an idea of the nature of the work they propose to do here, Mr. Potter, one of the experts, said yesterday:

"Every merchant, even he be a wise merchant, takes stock of his goods once a year. He wants to know just where he stands in regard to his business. He figures up his assets and balances them against his liabilities. Why does he do this? Because he doesn't want to act in the dark and wake up some day and find himself in financial distress. He has an interest in discovering whether his trade is increasing or decreasing; in knowing whether he is succeeding and where failing, and why.

Cities Should Take Stock.

"But villages have sprung up and grown from country towns into great manufacturing centers and never taken stock. Formerly most of the articles for human consumption were made by hand in homes or small shops; today they are turned out in enormous industrial establishments. Formerly employers and employees were close personal friends; today thousands of men troop into great industrial establishments and never see their employers. Around these establishments the workers crowd and housing and sanitary problems arise. Waste matter becomes a nuisance; a sewage system must be built. Surface wells and springs become contaminated; a water system becomes imperative. Open spaces for children's play are built over; a recreation problem is in our midst.

"If a business man knows he hasn't take his stock is short sighted, isn't a city equally so which doesn't follow suit? Many cities the country over are asking themselves that question. They are answering it by undertaking a social survey.

"Along with the many advantages of industrial and commercial progress and population increase certain evils creep in. What are they? How can we eliminate them and keep the good? It is to answer these questions that a social survey is undertaken. A social survey is a stock taking of a city's life; its work, its play, its crime, its courts, its health, its housing, its industry and its commercial efficiency.

Atlanta Should Know Herself.

"Atlanta desires to attract industries and people. It desires to stand out among the cities of the nation as a city that is up and doing. How better could it achieve that result than by knowing itself; knowing its virtues, that they may be blazoned forth; knowing its weaknesses, that they may be destroyed."

Sketch of Expert

Mr. Harrison is a graduate of Northwestern university and took a postgraduate course of several years in sociology and kindred subjects at Harvard. After finishing his college course he joined the editorial staff of the Survey magazine. He has had besides this much experience in field survey work, having been a member of the staff of the Pittsburg survey, that being the first investigation of the kind conducted in this country. He also had charge of the field investigations in the Birmingham survey made two years ago, and was director of the Syracuse survey, made in 1911.

Mr. Potter is a master of arts of Columbia university. He made an enviable record by his work of investigation into the condition of the canneries of New York conducted by the New York state factories' commission some years ago. Mr. Schneider participated in a social survey of Newbergh, N. Y., his report on which resulted in the improvement of conditions of living in that city in seven or eight important respects.

These men are the chief experts, who is the specialist on sanitary conditions, Mr. Schneider, received his preliminary training at the Massachusetts School of Technology, where he pursued a course in sanitation and public health. After his graduation, he was for some time connected with the faculty of the school. Since that time he has had much experience in various cities in investigation along the lines of public health and sanitary improvement.

Health surveys in Scranton, Pa., and Newark, N. J., were made under his direction.

MENACE TO COTTON IN COLD AND RAIN

All Sections Report Low Temperatures, and Where Crops Have Been Replanted Fear Is Felt.

Farmers in all sections of Georgia are awaiting with anxiety the results of the unprecedented cold spell which has grasped the state from one end to the other. In practically every section the temperatures are unusually low and far below the mark at which cotton crops can flourish.

In many sections the cotton crop has had to be replanted on account of the drouth in May which prevented the plants from coming up and now at this tender stage the rain-soaked ground and low temperatures will retard it still further, if not kill off great quantities, according to farming experts.

Grain and other crops which have reached a more advanced stage, will suffer more or less injury, depending upon circumstances and it is for their cotton that the farmers principally fear.

Young Cotton Injured.

Americus, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Considerable injury will result to young cotton in southwestern Georgia from the unprecedented weather now prevailing, and any long continuation of it will kill hundreds of acres of cotton just coming up.

The cold today has been severe, following a protracted season of rain and farmers are correspondingly apprehensive regarding the cotton crop. All the late planting, which is about 40 per cent of the crop, will be injured if not killed outright. Cotton in the ground and more susceptible to cold than the harder plants already growing. The crop prospect generally is far from satisfactory.

Crops Seriously Retarded.

Athens, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—With the temperature down to 50 tonight cotton, which can grow only with 60 or 65, has been seriously retarded by the unseasonable weather.

It is estimated by experts here that the crop has been held back fully two weeks by the cool weather.

Grain crops stand cold better and the corn is not likely hurt by the low temperatures unless quite retarded, as not yet seriously damaged in this section.

42-Year Record Broken.

Macon, Ga., June 10.—At 7 a. m. today the temperature here was 51, the lowest on this date in 42 years. At noon the mercury had climbed only a few degrees and overcoats were everywhere in evidence. The coal and wood dealers have done a thriving business here for two days. Crops are uninjured.

Cold in South Georgia.

Thomasville, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—"A cold day in June" with heavy rains and high winds prevailed here tonight in the portion of south Georgia today. The thermometer registered 52 degrees this morning and the highest reached during the day was 57.

The rainfall for the past 24 hours is three inches and is still coming tonight is still cloudy and threatening, and apparently turning colder.

Ground Wet and Cold.

Dublin, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Farmers in this section consider that little damage has resulted so far from the unprecedented cold weather. The ground, soaked with the heavy rains, is now cold, and it is feared that if the present low temperatures continue that heavy damage will result to the cotton crop.

Cotton Factors See Danger.

Augusta, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Reports received here by cotton factors this morning from all parts of the district indicate that the cotton crops are suffering from the cold weather in that section. Much of the plant is now materially retarded. Truck has suffered somewhat.

Little Damage Done Near Rome.

Rome, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The unusually cool weather of the past two days has not affected the crops in northwest Georgia, and there is no likelihood of any appreciable damage unless the mild spell should continue a week or more.

REWARD OF $200 FOR POISONER OF WIMBERLY

Governor Brown yesterday offered a reward of $200 for the arrest, with evidence to convict, of the poisoner or poisoners of L. P. Wimberly, the postmaster at Abbeville, Ga., who died June 3 after drinking from a flask of whisky which had been left in his office by unknown parties.

This promises to be one of the most mysterious murder cases in the history of south Georgia. Very little, if any, light has been thrown upon it by the very meager press dispatches that have emanated from Abbeville since the postmaster's death. Governor Brown has received a letter from the ordinary of Wilcox county, J. M. Warren, asking that he offer a reward for the arrest of the murderer.

The letter said that some party or parties put poison in a bottle of whisky and left it in the postoffice. The postmaster, seeing it next morning, thought that some good friend had left him the liquor. So he took a mixed himself a toddy and took a drink. Shortly afterwards he was taken sick and died. Analysis showed that the whisky had been poisoned. So far no clue has been found to the identity of this poisoners.

BAD WEATHER GREETS BIG ATLANTA PICNIC

Union City, Ga., June 10.—(Special.) The Baraca and Philathea classes of Atlanta, about five hundred strong, held their annual picnic here today. It was in charge of a committee composed of G. W. Evans, J. R. Curtis and Frank Stephens.

A special train was chartered for the occasion and brought over the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, with Conductor J. S. Smith and Engineer J. M. Smith in charge. The weather was somewhat disagreeable, but did not interfere with boating, bathing and fishing on the lake.

ANTI-DUMPING CLAUSE MAY BE ELIMINATED

Washington, June 10.—Elimination of the anti-dumping clause of the Underwood tariff bill, which would exact additional duties on imports sold in this country at less than the foreign market price, was recommended today by the senate finance subcommittee in charge of the administrative features of the measure.

This clause as it passed the house was not extended to articles on the free list and was objected to by the senate leaders on the ground that it was discriminatory. It was first proposed that the provision be amended to include the free list but this was finally abandoned, many senators concluding that the clause is impracticable and that it would precipitate retaliatory action by foreign nations which would be disadvantageous to the extension of American trade in the markets of the world.

The clause would provide that goods sold here at less than the foreign price should be dutiable at a rate equal to the difference between the two assessment and home market price, goods dutiable at fifty per cent or more to be exempt.

The recommendation to eliminate the provision has not yet been passed on by the majority members of the finance committee, but it will come up together with the recommendation to eliminate the provision granting a five per cent duty discount on goods imported in American-owned or controlled vessels, to which objection was made by foreign nations.

Another provision objected to by foreign countries, which would require foreign manufacturers to submit their books in cases of anti-trust disputes, is certain to be modified if not stricken from the bill.

The majority members of the committee began today consideration of subcommittee reports and ratified changes in the chemical and lumber schedules, which generally enlarge the free list. All cedar lumber is placed on the free list instead of being dutiable at ten per cent and slight increases or decreases are proposed in duties on other lumber. In the chemical schedule, practically all coal tar dyes either have been materially reduced or placed on the free list, and tanning extracts were reduced.

The committee will endeavor to have the bill ready for democratic caucus next week. The Underwood bill made oats dutiable at ten cents a bushel and hominy grits, rolled oats on the free list. In equalizing them, the senate agricultural subcommittee decided today to recommend a duty of six cents a bushel on oats, for feed, which shall be nine cents, and a duty of thirty cents per hundred pounds on oatmeal and rolled oats. In addition to the proposed countervailing duty on cattle, another provision being considered is that cattle should not come in free from any country which does not require as rigid inspection of live animals as does the United States.

London Stock Market.

London, June 10.—Settlement on the stock exchange began today with the announcement of the liquidation of the Anglo-American bank, with German connections. However, selling ceased at noon and under covering the whole market tended to firm from the low point.

American securities declined sharply during the forenoon. The failure of the Anglo-Mexican and the rejection of the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific deals played a part in the selling and depressed the list from 1 to 3 points. Prices rallied a fraction at noon but the undertone was weak. The market fluctuated irregularly during the rest of the session and the early losses were not entirely recovered.

The failure was announced on the London stock exchange of the old established brokerage firm of Kingscott & Schiesser. The liabilities could not be ascertained. The failure was due to many investments through German connections in Canadian Pacific, Rio Tinto, steel stocks and other securities. Charles Kingscott, the senior member of the firm, was found drowned at the steering wheel of his automobile in his home Sunday last, having driven his car through a fence into the river in the garden. It was supposed the affair was accidental.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON WAS ACTIVE AND CLOSED HIGHER

All Positions Made New High Ground for the Movement.

New York, June 10.—The cotton market was active today and at times showed considerable excitement, with all positions making new high ground for the movement. The close was steady and from 8 to 18 points net higher.

The opening was firm at an advance of 6 to 12 points in response to higher late cables from Liverpool, larger English spot sales and reports that a favorable breaking of the Indian monsoon would mean another year of good business in Lancashire.

Early weather reports were considered generally favorable and southern crop advices continued of an optimistic average. There was an active demand for old crop positions, while the rise and the limited sales after some little irregularity, prices worked sharply higher.

The unsettled state of affairs in the stock market was considered to some an unfavorable indication as to general trade conditions in the future, but Wall street houses were the buyers to cover shorts and during the early afternoon demand became more active owing to reports of excessive rainfall and low cool temperatures in the eastern belt. July contracts led the advance, as there were very few spot sales and the rise and that position sold up to 12.25, or 37 points above the closing figures of last night. New crop positions meanwhile sold to the 19 points net higher but after the execution of stop orders, which had been caught on the upturn, the market met heavy realizing.

Closing prices were several points off from the best. Houses with Jewish and other continental connections were buyers of near months and early new crop deliveries here, while Liverpool traded both ways in July. New Orleans bought new crop months but houses with southern connections were free sellers on the advance.

Spot cotton quiet, 10 points up; middling uplands 12.33; do, gulf 12.60; sales, none.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, June 10.—Continued covering in July and August again gave rise to the general market today and prices advanced in some instances. The strength displayed in the summer positions restricts selling of the new crop and the large discount further widens throughout the south and lower temperatures caused some nervousness today and also helped to advance prices, but the real strength is derived from the readjustment taking place in July and August in that market.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, June 10.—The July shorts took right today and their covering ran July up to 12.20. There was a reaction after this, but at no time did the market show any weakness. It was a bull market all day, and new crop months are not depending on July for their strength, but have merit of their own. The short covering in new crop months was not started. The close was steady at an advance of 9 to 18 points on the active months. It is a very dangerous market to bet short on.

Liverpool is due to come 2 to 3½ points up, to-day.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, June 10.—Continued heavy sales in the Atlantic states started the advance in our market today. The large short interest have been on confident of their position that they did not consider it necessary to cover, and indirectly bought their sales and with any uncertainty about the crop it would become difficult to find other contracts. So in July and August, as well as October, these deliveries were well below an export parity to European houses who have been shipping daily from our stock. The quick upward rally was due to a slow appreciation of that fact and until the market reached a point where many local profits were afforded relief, it was very active. The export does not appear to have sold any July, but seems to want to receive the contract. A rumor of a settlement was current on account for the cotton, but it seems impossible. Export interests are in many scattered hands.

WHEAT PRICES LOST; CORN MADE ADVANCE

Weak Stock Market Had Bearish Effect on Wheat in Chicago.

Chicago, June 10.—Wheat prices today took a bearish turn, influenced chiefly by the extreme weakness in the stock market. There was nervous close at a los sof ⅛@⅜c to 3-8c net. Corn gained a shade to ⅛@¼c and oats declined ⅛@⅜c. In provisions the outcome was the same as last night to 7 1-2c up.

Violent insecurities, because of the railroad rate decision, had a disheartening effect on wheat bulls right at the outset. Large purchases for millers and exporters here and at Duluth brought about rallies, but not of a lasting kind, and there was no time when the market on Oklahoma had checked its decline. Most traders here differed from the British view that the government crop report as to wheat was bullish. Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri publicas continued predictions of a bumper crop in that state and it was generally conceded that rains in Kansas and Oklahoma had checked the winter injury and perhaps wrought material improvement. Talk of dry weather in the northwest failed to make much impression. Primary receipts of wheat today were 560,000 bushels, a year ago 1,000,000 bushels. Expert clearances of wheat and flour equalled 210,000 bushels.

Frost reports kept corn firm. No seeding of consequence has been done, but speculative offerings were limited, and the market was therefore responsive to good buying.

Part of the weakness of the government figures showing a larger acreage than expected.

Provisions at first received a lift, owing to higher prices for hogs. Later, however, selling by leading longs in turn started a break in the market.

ATLANTANS SCORE BIG HIT IN PARADE

Ad Men Make Fine Showing in Baltimore Line—Meet the President Today.

By Fred Houser.

Baltimore, Md., June 10.—(Special.) Atlanta made the hit of the occasion in the great pageant that wound up the first day of the Ad Men's convention here last night. It was estimated by Marshall Farnan that 125,000 people lined the route of the great parade. More than 400 policemen were required to keep the crowds on the sidewalks in line. In spite of the size of the throng, however, there was no disorder.

The Atlanta delegation made a splendid showing and were aloudly cheered throughout. They formed on the open plaza in front of Marsh market, headed by W. S. Lounsbury, who wore a great fur shako and had a huge electric light attached to his belt. The light was covered with a globe bearing the words "Atlanta always ahead." Each member of the Atlanta delegation wore a light, gray suit and carried an electric light and umbrella.

Atlanta Leads Division.

Atlanta led the southeastern division of the parade. A drum corps preceded them, and a mammoth cocacola float, filled with beautiful girls, followed in their rear. S. C. Dobbs was in charge of the float and lent much assistance to the delegation in enabling them to make the showing they did for Atlanta in the parade.

Departmental discussions of important subjects occupied this morning's session. While the men were attending to business, the ladies were treated to a delightful trip to Annapolis, where they inspected the United States naval academy.

Will Meet President.

In the afternoon there was a general session at the armory devoted to vigilance and educational committee work. W. W. Parkhurst, of Atlanta, made one of the principal addresses.

The Atlanta delegation will leave at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning for Washington. They will entertain Congressman Schley Howard with a luncheon at the New Willard hotel, and will be received by President Wilson in the east room of the white house at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

NO MORE DECISIONS IN STATE RATE CASES

Supreme Court Reserves Additional Decisions Until Monday, Final Decision Day.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 10.—(Special.)—Absence from today's session of the supreme court of Justice Hughes, who is understood to be preparing decisions in most of the Missouri, Arkansas, Oregon, Kentucky and West Virginia railroad rate cases, caused final action in these cases to go over until the last decision day, June 16.

Just before the court convened a rumor arose that a dissenting opinion in the Minnesota rate cases would be announced. The court had adjourned yesterday immediately after Justice Hughes concluded announcing the court's decision. None was forthcoming, however.

Decision of the remaining rate cases is awaited as likely to throw additional light on the methods of valuing railroad property for rate making purposes, a subject dealt with in the Minnesota cases.

Ready to Begin Work.

All the decisions are being awaited anxiously by the interstate commerce commission, which is launching forth on the task of making a physical valuation of all the railroad property in the United States.

On account of the widespread public interest in the Minnesota decision the senate today ordered the printing of 10,000 copies as public documents.

No supplemental legislation will be passed by congress as the result of yesterday's decision of the supreme court in the Minnesota rate case, according to those in a position to know.

The court's decision leaves the railroads where they have always been since the passage of the Hepburn act, between the upper and nether millstones of federal and state regulations. There they must stay until congress releases them.

Local Commissions Popular.

But congress is not going to take any step extending the power of the interstate commerce commission at the expense of local state commissions, which have made themselves wonderfully popular, according to members of the house and senate.

Railroads will continue to be able to appeal from rates fixed by state commissions, by charging that they are confiscatory. This plea presents a federal question which may be carried to the supreme court for final adjudication. As decision as to when a rate becomes confiscatory and what is a fair return on investment, emphasizes the importance of the new Adamson-LaFollette physical valuation act. The valuation made by the state authorities in the Minnesota rate dispute was held by the supreme court to be excessive. On this valuation the Northern Pacific received returns of 6.21 per cent and the Great Northern returns of 5.95 per cent. A higher valuation would have made the percentage less.

No Use in Dying.

AT THE THEATERS.

(At the Bijou.)

Wally Brooks and his clever company are scoring the biggest hit of the season with "Hiram at the Cabaret" at the Bijou. This attraction is just the sort that appeals to lovers of amusement. The comedy is wholesome and keeps the audience laughing throughout the performance. The musical numbers are up-to-date and catchy, and are receiving numerous encores. The scenic effects are unusual, so much so as to receive rounds of applause when teh curtain goes up on the second act, and the costumes that are worn by both principals and chorus are decidedly fetching.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Keith excellence of the bill of vaudeville at the Forsyth this week has attracted attendance that is exceptionally large even for the busy theater. Signor Travata, the eccentric violinist, has created a sensation. His work has been a treat to music lovers, and his eccentric mannerisms exactly suit the typical vaudeville audiences. Chick Sale is about the cleverest character artist that has been seen on the local stage. The novelty hit of the bill must be credited to Roehm's Athletic Girls, a combination of pretty young ladies who fence, box, wrestle and punch the bag.

TO SEPARATE WHITE FROM NEGRO CLERKS

Washington, June 10.—Representative Aswell, of Louisiana, introduced a bill today to separate white government clerks and employees from negroes. It would provide that while there shall be no discrimination in favor of or against employees of equal efficiency on account of race, white clerks shall not be required to occupy the same offices in the government departments with negroes nor be under orders of negroes; and that except in cases of emergency white clerks in the railway mail service shall not have to serve in the same mail car with negro clerks.

INCREASE OF CRIMINALS BLAMED ON IDLE RICH

Washington, June 10.—Increase in the number of "idle rich" is producing a class of criminals in this country almost faster than the police can cope with it, according to Representative Borland, of Missouri, who today addressed the convention of International Association of Chiefs of Police. Mr. Borland declared that "idle rich" set a pernicious example in their search for amusement and aroused a desire of emulation in the minds of persons of small means.

The result, he said, was to tempt poorer folk into indiscretions and crime to obtain money. The cabaret show he declared to be one of the main causes for the spread of the social evil.
